TWELVE O'CLOCK M.

FORTIETH CONGRESS.

Senate Passes a Resolution of Thanks to Secretary Stanton--Arkansas Bill Passed--Tax Bill Considered in the House.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, June 1, 1868.

SENATE.

Mr. SHERMAN presented a resolution of the Legislature of Ohio, denunciatory of the efforts alleged to have been made to influence or intimidate members of the impeachment court. As the resolution came from a Democratic Legislature, which evidently desired himself and colleague to vote against conviction, he supposed they were the only Senators intended. He moved its reference to a select committee to ascertain whether either had been tampered with.

Mr. EDMUNDS' resolution of thanks to ex-Secretary Stanton was called up and opposed by Mr. Hendricks as being, in its present shape, merely partizan.

After a long discussion on an amendment offered by Mr. Henderson, voting thanks to Chief Justice Chase for his conduct during the impeachment trial, it was rejected—11 against 30—Messrs. Ross, Henderson, and eight Democrats, voting in the affirmative.

Messrs. Sherman, Morton and Williams then condemned the amendment as being in bad taste and dragging in the name of the Chief Justice without relevance to the matter under discussion.

Mr. FOWLER said he would vote against the resolution, because one portion it condemned his own action.

The resolution was agreed to—37 against 11.

The bill for the admission of Arkansas was taken up and discussed by Messrs. Drake and Johnson.

Mr. DRAKE modified his amendment so as to provide simply that Arkansas shall be admitted on condition that no denial or abridgement of the right of suffrage or any other right shall be enacted by said State on account of race or color, except Indians not taxed. Mr. DRAKE supported his amendment.

Mr. JOHNSON spoke in opposition to all unconstitutional and degrading conditions upon the admission of States.

Mr. MORTON opposed the amendment. The theory of the Senator from Missouri, if carried into effect, would destroy the government itself. It was a dangerous innovation, and he should vote against it.

Mr. FOWLER opposed the imposition of any condition.

Mr. HOWE, after some remarks, moved to recommit the bill, with instructions to provide for a provisional organization of State Government and the immediate admission of Senators and Representatives to Congress on the footing of delegates, such State affairs to continue until after the adoption of the fourteenth article by the Legislature.

Mr. YATES briefly supported the House bill.

Some colloquy occurred between Messrs. Doolittle, Trumbull and Pomeroy, the former endeavoring to show that the speeches of the two latter were inconsistent with and opposed to several provisions of the new Constitution relating to the equality of the two races.

Mr. HOWE'S amendment was rejected without a division.

Mr. FREYLINGHUYSEN offered an amendment to Mr. Drake's, which the latter accepted, that no person except Indians not taxed shall ever be denied the elective franchise or any other right on account of race or color.

Mr. HENDERSON offered an amendment, providing that no distinction can be made merely on account of race or color, but that a State may prescribe an educational qualification and provide separate schools for the two races. Rejected—5 to 30.

Mr. DRAKE'S amendment, as modified by Mr. Frelinghuysen, was then agreed to.

Mr. HENDRICKS offered an amendment as a substitute for the bill, in the form of a declaration that Arkansas having complied with the reconstruction laws, is entitled to readmission. Rejected—15 to 26.

Mr. FERRY renewed his amendment to strike out all conditions, which was also rejected—18 to 22.

The bill then passed—34 to 8. Nays—Messrs. Bayard, Buckalew, Doolittle, Hendricks, M'Creery, Patterson, (Tenn.) Saulsbury and Vickers.

At 7.05 adjourned.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

A large number of petitions were presented, including several from Pittsburgh, representing the depressed condition of trade. Referred.

Bills and resolutions were introduced for reference, as follows:

Regulating judicial proceedings in certain cases.

For the protection of officers and agents of the Government and for the better defense of the Treasury against unlawful claimants.

Authorizing the construction of a railroad and telegraph from Washington to Cleveland by the nearest direct line.

Instructing the Secretary of War to procure the services of Messrs. Bingham and Butler to conduct the prosecution against Jeff Davis.

Resolutions of the Ohio Legislature protesting against the efforts to tamper with members of the Impeachment Court.

For the construction of a railroad to the National Cemetery in West Tennessee.

To provide for specific duties on imported copper ore and regulate the making of grants of lands for the extension Portage Lake and Lake Superior Ship Canal.

Authorizing the front proprietors on the Menoamee river to have surveyed and entered the waste lands of that river.

To relieve some twenty-five citizens of Mississippi from political disabilities.

To establish, under the direction of the Secretary of State, agencies in Great Britain, Germany, Sweden and Norway, for the promotion of emigration to the United States.

Granting lands in aid of the construction of a railroad and telegraph line from Kansas to Albuquerke and Santa Fe.

To amend the steamship passenger act.

To repeal the act abolishing the office of Commissioner of Public Buildings.

Additional to act of 1804 for the punishment of certain crimes against the United States.

Mr. MORGAN offered a resolution relative to the room in the capital, recently occupied by Miss Vinnie Ream, now ordered to be occupied as a guard room, and reciting a letter from that lady declaring the removal of her model of Mr. Lincoln would destroy it and the whole year's work, and therefore directing the suspension of the execution of the resolution of the 28th of May on the subject.

On motion of Mr. COBB the resolution was tabled—61 against 47.

Mr. VAN TRUMP introduced a resolution instructing the Military Committee to enter into negotiations with the ladies of Mount Vernon Association for the purchase of the Key of the French Bastile, for use in the new prison now being fitted up in the capital.

Mr. STEVENS, of Pennsylvania, objected and the resolution was not received.

Mr. WILSON, of Ohio, offered a resolution to allow newspapers to be re-mailed within twenty days after publication. Referred.

Mr. BECK offered a resolution asking the Secretary of War for information relative to the arrest and imprisonment of Wm. D. Chipley and other citizens of Columbus, Georgia, by the military authorities.

Mr. KELLY objected and the resolution went over.

Mr. ARNELL offered a resolution inquiring into the facts connected with the recent murder of two ex-Federal soldiers, Henry Fitzpatrick and Mr. Lincoln, in Maury county, Tennessee. Adopted.

Mr. KERR offered a resolution instructing the Judiciary Committee to inquire into the expediency of prohibiting by law members and Senators from appearing as counsel before any Committee of either House, or any Court in the District of Columbia in matters in which they may have to act as legislators. Referred.

Mr. JULIAN offered a resolution calling on the President for information as to the lands of the Osage Indians. Adopted.

Mr. HOLMAN offered a resolution declaring that in the judgment of the House the bonds and other securities of the United States ought to be taxed for national purposes, in an amount substantially equal to the average tax imposed on property in the several States for local purposes, in such manner as may substantially equal taxation, the tax to be deducted from coupons as they become due, and directing the Committee of Ways and Means to report a bill for that purpose.

Mr. STEVENS, Pa., asked Mr. Holman to modify his resolution so as to instruct the Committee of Ways and Means to inquire into the propriety of doing this.

Mr. HOLMAN declined this.

The previous question was not seconded, and the morning hour having expired the resolution went over until next Monday.

A resolution offered by Mr. Eldridge last Monday, insisting on the right of citizens to be protected from unreasonable search and seizure of their private papers, and on which he had moved to suspend the rules, came up.

The House refused to suspend the rules—29 to 95, and the resolution was not received.

Mr. SCHENCK moved that after to-day the House take a recess each day from 4:30 to 7:30. Agreed to.

The House went into Committee of the Whole and took up the Tax bill.

Mr. SCHENCK made a speech in explanation thereof, during which he intimated the Committee of Ways and Means was willing the tax on whiskey should be reduced to 75 cents per gallon.

Mr. SCHENCK gave the following as the total anticipated revenue for the next fiscal year: Customs, $165,000,000; internal revenue, $210,560,000; public lands, $1,000,000; miscellaneous, $30,000,000. Total, $406,560,000. Supposing no increase of receipts from distilled spirits and tobacco over the receipts for the fiscal year ending June 30th, 1867, the above estimate would be reduced to $360,560,00 1: The estimate of expenditure for the next fiscal year, before submitted, $333,320,629. Balance to account of surplus revenue, $28,239,371. Mr. Schenck went on to say that including the bounties, including appropriations yet to be made, or likely to be made, including all probable expenditures of the government, he had arrived at the conclusion that if this bill becomes a law, and if the revenue derived under it from whiskey should amount to $70,000,000, the receipts of the government for the year would exceed by $43,000,000 all needed expenditures. The government would be able to pay bounties, to pay interest on the public debt, and to pay all other expenses, and come out with that surplus at the end of the year.

Mr. KELLEY spoke in favor of a reduction of the tax on whisky to fifty or even forty cents.

The Committee rose and Mr. POLAND, from Special Committee on the subject, reported that Mr. Washburne had withdrawn all charges against Mr. Donnelly.

Mr. DONNELLY called the attention of the House to this fact, when Mr. POLAND interrupted him, saying he had not expected any debate, and after some discussion objected to his proceeding further. The report was then ordered to be printed and recommitted, and the House adjourned.

Presbyterian General (O. S.) Assembly.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

ALBANY, June 1.—George Judkin, of Philadelphia, moved the Presbyteries require of the candidates for the ministry ability to recite the short catechism of the church, and that such be a pre-requisite for a diploma from seminaries. Tabled for future action.

Names were reported for delegates to corresponding ecclesiastical bodies. The election occurs to-morrow.

A motion to postpone until another year the election of Professor to the vacant chair in Chicago Seminary was twice rejected by votes of 88 to 85 and 90 to 93.

The appeal of Rev. Alex. Cowan, of Kentucky, from the decision of the Ohio Presbytery, is being heard by the Assembly as a court of last resort. The appellant had refused to recant the assertions made in the declaration and testimony signed by him. He claims the right to be first tried by the inferior courts. He also claims that the Assembly had no right to take the action it did in 1861 and 1862, in reference to the rebellion, as a counter blast to which the declaration, &c., was issued.

Death of Ex-President Buchanan.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

PHILADELPHIA, June 1.—Mr. Buchanan, who died this morning of pluera pneumonia, at Wheatland, had been ill for some months, but was getting much better until the recent damp spell caused a relapse. Even yesterday his physicians had hopes of his recuperation, but last night he began to sink rapidly and exhibit the symptoms of early dissolution. Such of his relatives and friends as could be summoned, were with him in his last moments. He prayed and took the sacrament at six o'clock this morning. "God bless my country," were the words last expressed by him, and they were repeated several times in a whisper. One of his latest requests was that ex-Presidents Pierce, Fillmore and President Johnson be invited to attend his funeral. His funeral will take place at Wheatland on Thursday.

Eaathquake Shocks in California.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 1.—Two heavy shocks of an earthquake were felt at Sacramento about nine o'clock lastnight. It was not felt at all at San Francisco, or along the coast, but very severe in the State of Nevada, where it seems to have been the principal seat of disturbance. Four heavy shocks were felt at Fort Churchill and Virginia City, but no damage was done at the latter place except some large buildings racked. Everybody managed to get out of doors. The pumps in the Savage mine were stopped, and the workmen thought a cave had occurred.

BEAVER COUNTY.

Republican County Convention—Nomination for Congress—County Candidates—Popular Vote System Adopted—Grant, Colfax and the Chicago Platform, &c., &c., &c.

[Special Dispatch to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

BEAVER, via ROCHESTER, PA., June 1.

The Republican County Convention met here to-day, and was presided over by James Patterson, Esq., of Beaver Falls. M. Weyand was unanimously nominated for Congress. Dr. A. T. Shallenberger and Messrs. S. M. Morgan and H. Hice were appointed conferees and instructed to use every honorable means to secure his nomination.

Thomas Nicholson was re-nominated for Assembly; District Attorney, J. R. Harrah; Commissioner, D. W. Scott; Poor House Director, John Slent; Auditor, Wm. Thomas; Coroner, Wm. Barnes; Trustees of the Academy, R. Eaken and S. McGaw.

The Convention decided by a large majority in favor of the popular vote system of nominating candidates.

Hon. M. D. Quay, Chairman of the Committee on Resolutions, reported resolutions endorsing Grant, Colfax and the Chicago platform, regretting Curtin's defeat, endorsing impeachment, General Cameron's course thereon, Gen. Geary, our member of Congress, Senator and Representative in the Legislature, and directing them to endorse Senator Lowry's project to enlarge the Erie Canal.

The utmost harmony prevailed, and the Republicans of Beaver county will give the largest majority ever given in this county for Grant and Colfax.

THE CAPITAL.

General Schofield Sworn as Secretary of War—Gen. Stoneman, His Success as District Commander—Impeachment Corruption, &c.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, June 1, 1868.

THE WAR DEPARTMENT—GEN. SCHOFIELD TAKES CHARGE.

The oath of office was this morning administered to General Schofield as Secretary of War by Chief Justice Chase at the residence of the latter, after which Gen. Schofield proceeded to the Executive Mansion, in company with Col. Campbell, of his staff, and after a short stay, during which his commission was handed him by the President, was accompanied by President Johnson and Adj. Gen. Thomas to the War Department, where he assumed his duties. No formal order has been issued yet on taking charge, and it is not thought any material changes will be made affecting any of the officers now on duty at the War Department. Col. Wherry, Major Rathbone and Capt. Ennis, of Gen. Schofield's personal staff, will probably be assigned to duty in the War Department as Aids.

General Grant called shortly after the new Secretary had made his appearance, and paid his respects, as also did many others, including the heads of the Bureaus of the War Department, General Rawlings and other members of the staff of the General-in-Chief, and other prominent army officers.

General Thomas will be absent from Washington for a few days and on his return will, it is understood, resume his official duties as Adjt. Gen. of the army.

IMPEACHMENT CORRUPTION.

The Impeachment Managers had General Adams before them to-day, and it is said they will inquire into Collector Smythe's affairs.

A TARIFF BILL.

The Sub-Committee of Ways and Means will report a tariff bill to to that Committee to-morrow. It will revise the entire subject. There will be no reduction, but rather an increase of duties, owing to the large reductions in the tax bill.

FIRST DISTRICT COMMANDER.

The following order was to-day received by General Scofield, from the President:

Executive Mansion, Washington, D. C., June 1st, 1868.—Major General John M. Scofield having been appointed by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, Secretary for the Department of War, is hereby relieved from the command of the First Military District, created by the act of Congress passed March 2d, 1867, Brevet Major General George Stoneman is hereby assigned, according to his Brevet rank of Major General, to the command of the First District, and of the Military Department of Virginia. The Secretary of War will please give the necessary instructions to carry this order into effect.

[Signed.] ANDREW JOHNSON.

In accordance with the above, a general order will be promulgated from the headquarters of the army for the information of all concerned, and also assigning General Stoneman to duty in accordance therewith.

PREPARING HIS QUARTERS.

Carpenters are at work putting down a new floor and otherwise preparing one of the basement rooms of the Capitol for the occupation of Mr. Woolley.

PLEA IN BAR.

The bill introduced in the House by Mr. Butler to-day allows officers and agents of the Government to plead in bar of any action that the act was done or omitted to be done in the administration of an act of Congress, such plea to be a complete bar to any such suit.

PHILADELPHIA.

Grand Ratification Mass Meeting—The Nominations Heartily Endorsed.

One of the largest meetings that was ever held at Concert Hall Philadelphia, gathered there on Saturday night, to attend the ratification of the nominations made by the National Union Republican party at Chicago. The large hall was crowded with a living sea of humanity, and hundreds were turned away, unable even to obtain an entrance inside the doors. The Fire Zouave Band was in attendance and discourged several patriotic airs.

Isaac Hazehurst, Esq., was called to preside, and a large number of leading influential citizens were designated as Vice Presidents and Secretaries. On taking the Chair the President made a brief and patriotic speech in which he enlogised the the Great Captain of the age and reaffirmed the principles of impartial justice and equal rights to all he said.

Should we fail to maintain these principles, the great struggle of the past will have been in vain. The mighty work of Gettysburg will remain unfinished, unless we here resolve that the noble dead shall not have died in vain, "that the nation shall, under God, have a new birth of freedom, and that the government of the people, by the people, and for the people, shall not perish from the earth!"

Hon. John A. Bingham, of Ohio, was introduced and received with great enthusiasm, the audience becoming so excited that they rose to their feet and gave three stirring cheers, making the house tremble.

When quiet was finally restored Mr. Bingham said:

FELLOW-CITIZENS: I intend to detain you here for a few minutes while I speak to you on the spot where the Constitution had its origin, not for the Democratic party, not for the Republican party, but for the Constitution of the Union and the Union of the Constitution. The time has come when the Constitution made by the country, and for the country, will be maintained by men of every party in the country against all comers. That time has been since the morning when the first gun of treason was fired against the walls of Fort Sumpter, and sent its echo around the globe.

Men of every political association of the country knew then, and know from that time to this, that the institutions of the country must be maintained; that men must throw aside the prejudices of party, and unite for the salvation of the country. Wherever I go, and upon all occasions, men of all political parties breath from their lips words that come from their hearts, in perfect consciousness that there must be a great grand party of the country. The utterances of your chairman are affirmations of the truth of what I say. Those words are the words of Washington, of Jackson, and of Lincoln—the men that made us what we are, and all that we can expect to be hereafter. These are the words of the Union Republican party; of a republican government by the Union of States, and by which every State and Territory is to be one country from ocean to ocean.

The party of the Union, of the Republic of America, is the language of that great organization of men, made up of every party in the country, Whig and Republican, from the lips of Baptists, Presbytertans, Episcopalians, and Methodists, from every religious sect in the land, including the purest and the best of the Catholics, all rallying together—all to save a common country, a common Constitution, from being overthrown; a country that was saved by such sacrifices as nations never saw before on earth—by the death of 500,000 of the nation's best and noblest that the nation might live.

As I went to-day over the green hills surrounding your city, I saw thousands with flowers in their hands to strew over the graves of those who went forth and died to save the country, and thousands to-day are engaged in this work, thankful that the harvest of death has ceased and the nation perpetuated hereafter by that great instrument in the hands of freemen—the ballot. Your veterans, covered all over with scars, have done this work, and done it well, and they have now rested from their labors. It now remains with you and me, and all in this land, to go to the ballot-box and see that we elect a man tried in the fire and not found wanting—a man who led our armies to victory through four years of conflict; and in response to the nomination conferred upon him, the great hero, Grant, will not betray the trust conferred to him, will not betray the people, but carry out these principles.

There are but two parties in the country—the party of Union, of American faith and justice, and of constitutional liberty, and the party of State secession, anarchy, and treason. It is true, in the contest of 1868, as in that of 1861, that there is a party of traitors in the land. [Applause.] I utter these words distinctly. The great body of the men who are opposed to Grant were opposed to the war and its victorious termination. The issue to-day is without a parallel. You ask for proof. I will give it to you. When the battalions of treason surrendered to the Republic; when the smoke of conflict and the din of arms had ceased, from the Potomac to the Rio Grande, the fact was discovered that twelve States were totally disorganized, without any form of government known to man; still in the Union, but without a republican form of government; disorganized communities, from which capital had fled and would not return until person and property were placed under the protection of the laws.

The American people said that new securities must be had, so they instructed their representatives in Congress the next year to make an amendment to the Constitution that would secure equal rights to all, foreign or native-born rights of person and property. They went one step further, and declared that no State or Territory, nor the United States, should ever assume or pay any debt of the rebellion, or for released slaves. They went another step further, and declared that the debt contracted in defence of the nation's life, and that due to the nation's defenders, should forever be inviolate. They went still further, and declared that whoever had broken an oath, either to Federal or State authorities, should never again hold any office of trust or honor until the great people, through their representatives, should give it to them.

They said that the article known as the fourteenth should be part and parcel of the Constitution of the United States, and be sent to the people for ratification. That it was ratified, you know well, beginning with Maine and ending with distant Oregon; ratified by twenty-three States, representing 25,000,000 of American people—by the great people who stamped the rebellion out by fire and the sword and saved the nation. It was done by twenty-three States in twelve months, in 1866 and 1867; yet in 1868 it was reserved for the Democratic party (as it calls itself) in Ohio, against the will of the people, to go to work and repeal the act; declaring it to be unconstitutional to pay the debt contracted in defence of the nation's life, and that it was constitutional to pay that contracted by rebellion itself. That is Democracy.

Abraham Lincoln was the friend of Ulysses S. Grant. He lifted him from his humble position in Illinois and put him at the head of the army. He trusted him until the last gun of armed rebellion had been fired and laid down at the feet of the great leader. If he did, why not we? We have just such another man in Grant—a man who will remember that his oath to preserve the Constitution is registered in Heaven, and that he must keep it at the peril of his soul. Keep him, and all is well—reject him, and I will not answer for the welfare of you or myself. Trust him. Can you say that you will turn your back on such a man? If so you would be unworthy to have such a defender.

Mr. Bingham sat down amidst the wildest enthusiasm of the audience, who received his spirited address throughout with the closest attention, interrupted at times only with applause.

Gen. John Cochrane, of New York, W. H. Ruddiman, of Philadelphia, and other gentlemen addressed the meeting. The resolutions endorsed heartily the Chicago platform; ratified the nomination of Grant and Colfax; condemned all schemes of repudiation looking to the violation of a pledged national honor; expressing an abherrence for treason and traitors, whether in the National Senate or in other high official place; paying tribute to the thirty-five honest Senators and pitying and condemning the recreant ones; paying tribute to Secretary Stanton and the soldiers and sailors of the nation.

GRANT AND COLFAX.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, June 1.—The following is General Grant's reply to the nomination of the Chicago Convention.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 29, 1868.

Gen. Joseph R. Hawley, President National Union Republican Convention.

In formally accepting the nomination of the National Union Republican Convention of the 21st of May, inst., it seems proper that some statement of my views, beyond the mere acceptance of the nomination, should be expressed. The proceedings of the Convention were marked with wisdom, moderation and patriotism, and I believe express the feelings of the great mass of those who sustained the country through its trial. I endorse their resolutions. If elected to the office of President of the United States, it will be my endeavor to administer all the laws in good faith, with economy and with the view of giving peace, quiet and protection everywhere. In times like the present it is impossible, or at least eminently improper, to lay down a policy to be adhered to right or wrong through our administration of four years. New political issues, not foreseen, are constantly arising. The views of the public on old ones are constantly changing, and a purely administrative officer should always be left free to execute the will of the people. I always have respected that will, and always shall. Peace and universal prosperity, its sequence, with economy of administration, will lighten the burden of taxation, while it constantly reduces the public debt. Let us have peace.

With great respect, your obedient servant.

U. S. GRANT.

REPLY OF MR. COLFAX.

Following is the reply of Speaker Colfax to the Committee announcing his nomination by the Chicago Convention:

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 30, 1868.

Hon. J. R. Hawley, President of National Union Republican Convention:

DEAR SIR: The platform adopted by the patriotic Convention over which you presided, and the resolutions which so happily supplement it, so entirely agree with my views as to a just national policy that my thanks are due to the delegates as much for this clear and auspicious declaration of principles as for the nomination with which I have been honored, and which I gratefully accept. When a great rebellion which imperilled the national existence was at last overthrown, the duty of all others devolving on those entrusted with the responsibilities of legislation, evidently was to require that the revolted States should be readmitted in the participation of the Government against which they had erred only on such a basis as to increase and fortify, not to weaken and endanger, the strength and power of the nation. Certainly no one ought to have claimed that they should be re-admitted under such rule, that their organization of States could ever again be used as at the opening of the war, to defy the national authority or to destroy the national unity. This principle has been the pole star of those who have inflexibly insisted on the Congressional policy your Convention so cordially endorsed. Baffled by Executive opposition and by persistent refusal to accept any plan of reconstruction proffered by Congress, justice and public safety at last combined to teach us that only by an enlargement of suffrage in those States could the desired end be attained, and that it was even more safe to give the ballot to those who loved the Union than to those who had sought ineffectually to destroy it. The assured success of this legislation is being written on the adamant of history and will be our triumphant vindication. More clearly, too, than ever before does the nation now recognize that the greatest glory of a republic is that it throws the shield of its protection over the humblest and weakest of its people and vindicates the rights of the poor and the powerless as faithfully as those of the rich and the powerful. I rejoice, too, in this connection, to find in your platform the frank and fearless avowal that naturalized citizens must be protected abroad at every hazard as though they were native born. Our whole people are foreigners, or descendants of foreigners. Our fathers established by arms their right to be called a nation. It remains for us to establish the right and welcome to our shores all who are willing by oaths of allegiance to become American citizens. Perpetual allegiance, as claimed abroad, is only another name for perpetual bondage, and would make all slaves to the soil where first they saw the light. Our national cemeteries prove how faithfully these oaths of fidelity to the adopted land have been sealed in the life-blood of thousands upon thousands. Should we not then be faithless to the dead if we did not protect their living brethren in the full enjoyment of that nationality for which side by side with the native born, our soldiers of foreign birth laid down their lives. It was fitting, too, that the representatives of a party which had proved so true to national duty in time of war, should speak so clearly in time of peace for the maintenance, untarnished, of the national honor, national credit and good faith as regards its debt, the cost of our national existence. I do not need to extend this reply by further comment on a platform which has elicited such hearty approval throughout the land. The debt of gratitude it acknowledges to the brave men who saved the Union from destruction, the frank approval of amnesty based on repentance and loyalty the demand for the most rigid economy and honesty in the government, the sympathy of the party of liberty with all throughout the world who loug for the liberty we here enjoy, and the recognition of the sublime principles of the Declaration of Independence are worthy of the organization on whose banners they are to be written in the coming contest. Its past record cannot be blotted out or forgotten. If there had been no Republican party, slavery would to-day cast its baneful shadow over the Republic. If there had been no Republihan party, a free press and free speech would be as unknown from the Potomac to the Rio Grand as ten years ago. If the Republican party could have been stricken from existence when the banner of Rebellion was unfurled, and when the response of "no coercion" was heard at the North, we would have had no nation to-day. But for the Republican party, daring to risk the odium of tax and draft laws, our flag could not have been kept flying in the field until the long hoped for victory came. Without a Republican party, the Civil Rights bill, the guarantee of equality under the law, to the humble and the defenceless as well as to the strong, would not be to-day upon nur national statute book. With such inspiration from the past, and following the example of the founders of the Republic, who called the victorious General of the revolution to preside over the land his triumphs had saved from its enemies, I cannot doubt that our labors will be crowned with success, and it will be a success that shall bring restored hope, confidence, prosperity and progress, South as well as North, West as well as East, and above all, the blessings under Providence of national concord and peace.

Very truly, yours,

SCHUYLER COLFAX.

Washington Topics and Gossip.

The announcement of the postponement of the trial of Jefferson Davis causes but little surprise, as it has been known for some days that Chief Justice Chase has desired such postponement. The only reason for objecting to proceeding with the trial at the present time is supposed to be his desire to see what will be done at the National Democratic Convention at New York on the 4th of July. It is stated here that presiding at the trial of Jeff. Davis immediately preceding this Convention might prove detrimental to whatever chances the Chief Justice has of obtaining the Democratic nomination for the Presidency, and hence the advocated further postponement.

President Johnson, for the first time in many months, visited the War Department, on Monday. General Schofield called at the White House, and at eleven o'clock Johnson advanced upon the War Office, flanked on one side by ad interim Thomas in full uniform, and on the other by Schofield in citizen's dress, followed by a corps of staff officers. They did not stop in the Executive Office, where General Pelouse and General Howard were sitting, but proceeded at once to the inner office, vacant since the withdrawal of Mr. Stanton. It is understood that the President's action is in pursuance of his theory that Thomas has been the legal Secretary of War, and that therefore he must turn over the office to Schofield. Mr. Johnson looked in wonderfully good spirits, as if he had achieved a victory.

All the published reports of Gen. Grant's answer to Gen. Hawley, when apprised of his nomination on Friday night, are incorrect in the last and most important sentence. The General said: "I shall have no policy of my own to enforce against the will of the people." The reporters made it read, "Interfere against," which is by no means an improvement.

Another caucus of Radical Senators was held yesterday to decide upon the successor to Colonel Forney as Secretary of the Senate. The utmost harmony prevailed, and after some discussion it was decided to go into an election on Thursday next for an entirely new set of officers for the Senate, excepting that of the President pro tem. It is the intention to elect a new Secretary, Sergeant-at-Arms and an Executive Clerk. A number of efforts have been made at various times to oust George T. Brown, present Sergeant-at-Arms, but through the influence of Senator Trumbull he has always been sustained. Now, however, the Radical majority have determined to make this change, and Mr. Trumbull's entreaties prove unavailing. Mr. Brown, it is stated, has made large sums of money out of his position during the six or seven years he has held it. It is also stated that an other reason why such change is to be made is found in the fact that he privately opposed the President's conviction at the recent trial. Indications are that Major General Burbridge will be selected as his successor, having been an applicant for that position when the last attempt was made to remove Mr. Brown. At a private caucus of Radical Senators, on Saturday, it was decided to elect John J. Cresswell to the Secretaryship of the Senate, but that gentleman, after considering the matter, has declined to accept the position, preferring to remain in more active life, but thanking his late colleagues for their united support in tendering him the position.

The particular purpose in calling a caucus of the Republican members of the House, is to test the question whether the passage of the general revenue bill shall be undertaken this session. A comparison of notes tend to the belief that a majority are opposed to taking it up at all, but Gen. Schenck will urge action upon it with all the force in his power, and his influence, which is considerable, may turn the scales. Most of those who favor a postponement, however, believe that a week or two spent upon the bill will only show the impossibility of passing it without sitting all summer, and that it will, therefore, eventually be laid aside. The question may arise in the caucus in the shape of a subordinate proposition to take out the whisky, tobacco and stamp sections and pass upon them, which will be the alternative when it is decided that the whole bill cannot be passed.

The advocates of a general bill which will provide that the Ohio River shall not be bridged with less than a 500 feet span have gained a signal triumph. Captain A. Q. Ross, who was elected by the merchants, manufacturers and river men at Cincinnati to lay this matter before Congress and urge the passage of such a bill, at the request of the House Committee on Post Offices and Post Roads, was present at a special meeting of the Committee and made an able argument in support of his views of about two hours' duration. His first proposition was to prove that a bridge of less than 500 feet span was a serious obstruction to navigation; and, second, if these bridges were an obstruction, there can be no consistency in authorizing artificial obstructions while they are spending millions of money in removing natural ones. Captain Ross then argued that increase in insurance on commerce by having short span bridges and losses by collision and detention amounted to $6,000,000 annually, which was more than enough to pay the difference in the cost of construction between long and short span bridges. Capt. Ross also proved to the satisfaction of the Committee that bridges of 500 feet span could be built. At the conclusion of his argument the Committee expressed themselves highly pleased with the facts which have been laid before them, and informed Capt. Ross that they would unanimously recommend to the House that a general bill providing a uniform system of bridges for the Ohio river with five hundred feet spans be passed, and authorizing their chairman, Gen. Farnsworth, to report such a bill to the House on the first calling of their Committee. The Committee are unanimous in the opinion that the bridge contracted and authorized to be built between Cincinnati and Newport, Ky., will prove a serious obstruction to navigation.

A letter was received at the Treasury Department Saturday enclosing two one thousand dollar seven-thirty notes. It was postmarked New York, May 29th, but contained no evidence whatever that could lead to the discovery of the sender. The numbers of the enclosed notes were carefully cut out, and the address, namely: "Treasury Department, Washington," had been taken from a newspaper and pasted on the envelope. The interior contained the words, cut from a former newspaper paragraph, in a previously announced conscience case, "this money rightfully belongs to the United States." The notes will be placed to the credit of the Treasury Department.

—Ex-Gov. Seymour denies that he is in favor of the nomination of Chase by the Democrats. He favors McClellan first and Pendleton second, unless some new and more popular candidate can be selected.

The Pittsburgh Gazette.

CHARGE OF THE DRESS BRIGADE.

Half a league, half a league, half a league rearward.
Right through the mire and dirt,
Much to its beauty's hurt,
Drags'd the rich silken skirt,
Half a league rearward.

Half a peck, half a peck, half a peck fully—
Hirsute and woolly,
Right into the liquid air—
Rose up the pile of hair,
From other heads sundered.
Nobly astraddle on it,
Rode the brave bonnet—

Rode, though it wondered.
Curls to the right of it,
Curls to the left of it,
Curls to the rear of it,
Curls that were plundered.

What though men shout "Oh! fie!"
"Fortunes you have squandered;"
Their's not to make reply.
Their's not to reason why,
Their's but to dress or die—
"Charge!" to the clerks they cry—
"Charge by the hundred."

Necklace and ornaments, opals and diamonds. Princess Louise wore a dress of silver blond and green satin, trimmed with narcissus and silver braid. Head-dress, diamonds and narcissus. Ornament, diamonds.

The Planchette.

"Planchette" is a mystery, not in its make, but in its actions. A small board (heart shaped) with two pentagraph wheels affixed to the under side, and a hole at the point through which a pencil is run, and which does the double duty of a third leg and that of an amanuensis, this constitutes "Planchette." By placing your hand with that of another person upon the board, this wonderful little instrument begins to move in all directions, and will, if bidden, write what you desire.

It will also answer the questions you ask it. Ladies, or one lady and a gentleman, can work it better than two gentlemen, and if the parties placing their hands upon it are one a blonde and the other a brunette, so much the better. Some persons, however, who are strong magnetizers, can work "Planchette" alone. This little instrument is sometimes very contrary, and will insist on having its own way.

For instance, we asked it to write our name, when it wrote that of a gentleman standing near, and positively refused to write any other. It, however, condescended to answer a question in regard to the weather, and stated that it would not clear off yesterday. "Planchette" is certainly afraid of skeptical persons, and will not move for them, while for others it works rapidly.

This little instrument is fast becoming a parlor friend, and with persons who are able to work it any amount of fun and amusement can be had, and possibly much instruction can be afforded.

A Short Petticoat Ball.

We have had the short petticoat ball, such an exceptional ball; all married ladies, not a maiden blush present. The skirts had prescribed limits. They were not to come a thread lower behind than the top of the heel of the back of the satin shoe, and not a line shorter in front than the bone of that part of the side of the foot called an ankle. Geometrical shoemakers have knelt and measured the prettiest feet in Paris for that ball. It was given by Mme. de Pourtales, and her sumptuous apartments were one glare of light on dazzling white. It was a Godsend to gentlemen; how they kicked about; how firmly they put their feet nowhere excepting in places fit for human feet, how they applauded the waltz a deux temps; what a queen they made of Mme. de Pourtales. But alas! how many flat feet came to wax light, and oar-like, paddling feet, and safe boat feet, and slender feet, no one who has never been to a petticoat ball can know.—Paris Cor. N. Y. Herald.

A Matrimonial Novelty.

A fashionable wedding, on a new plan, came off at Zion church, in the Fifth avenue, this morning. The bride is the daughter of a wealthy and well known iron founder, who returns an income of $200,000 per annum, and the bridegroom, the son of an Exchange Place broker, wealthy also. The services were entirely choral. Bishop Southgate intoned the prayers, and even the question, "Wilt thou take the woman," etc., etc., was drawled out in the same monotone. The effect was ludicrous, rather than solemn, and one or two of the gushing bridesmaids could not restrain from laughing right out at it. The choir got up gorgeous "processional" and "recessional" for the occasion, and, for the delectation of the happy pair, and the lookers-on, threw in all the fancy music, from Mendelssohn down to Offenbach.

"No, THE NEW PARTY CAN'T SUCCEED, no more than our last vencher did. It ain't made up uv the rite material. There's more intelleck than sole in it—more bowels than heart. There's Chase, Fessenden, Trumbull and Grimes. Chase hez ambition, Grimes hate, and Trumbull and Fessenden dyspepsia, making the ingregencies in the new organization half ambition and hate and half dyspepsia. Never trust a man whose stomick is out uv order—take no stock in him whose bowels is unsound. Intelleck is nothin, heart is nothin, unless there's a stumick under them on wich to build. Chase hez no conshence, Trumbull and Fessenden no gastric joose. Sich men alluz conspire and alluz fail. Still, I'm glad the thing's occurred."—Nasby.

ALLEGHENY CATTLE MARKET.

CATTLE.

There was again a very fair supply of ttle on sale this week, but with a good al demand and some inquiry for ship- nt, the market ruled steady and prices re fully maintained. The number of icago cattle was smaller than last week, t to make up for this there was an in- ased number from Ohio, Indiana and nnsylvania. The number taken for pment was larger than last week, and it probable that had it not been for the fact at there were eastern buyers in attend- ce, prices would have ruled a shade ver. As it was, however, about all the tle offered were taken, and that, too, at l prices, and a larger number of stock- could have been sold. Prime to extra butcher's cattle sold at from 9 to 9¼c, d medium do at 8 to 8¼c. Stockers, of ich the supply was light, may be quo- at 5 to 6¼c, as to quality and condition. esh cows, $50 to $80 per head.

Hazlewood & Blackstock wholesaled 16 ad of prime Chicago steers at 9¼, and re- ied 18 head at 9 to 9¼.

Gibson sold 29 head of fairish Indiana ck steers at an average of 5¼.

as. McAllister retailed 6 head of good tle at 8¾.

Hedges & Taylor sold 18 head of good io steers at 8¾0 to 9.

Wesley Greer wholesaled 42 head of fair- Washington Co., Penna. steers to Moses o. at 6¾—this bunch of cattle was con- ered remarkably cheap.

Stakely & Bro. sold 9 head of mixed ck at 5½ to 7½.

Haas & Kraus sold 15 head of prime ble-fed cattle, averaging 1,350 lbs, to ith & Hoag, at 9½; these cattle were fat- ed by Guckenheimer & Bro. (Freeport, nna.) and were very fine. H. & K. also d 19 head of Ohio cattle at 7½ to 9; and head of Chicago steers at 8 to 9½.

Byers & Needy sold 18 head of cows to ses & Co. at 7¾; 16 head fat cattle to drews at 9; 95 head retailed at 7¾ to 9½; d 19 head stockers at 6.

Hartman & Shamberg retailed 32 head icago steers at 7¼ to 9¼.

Greenwald & Kahn retailed 56 head io and Chicago cattle at 8¼ to 9¼.

Emerick & Co., 8 head mixed stock at to 7¼.

Lobman & Zeigler, 19 head Penna. and nois cattle at 5¾ to 9¼.

Marks & Traurman, 74 head fat cattle at to 9½--stockers held at 6.

Holmes, Lafferty & Co. sold in all 57 d at 8 to 9,40, for fat cattle, and 6¼ for kers.

S. Carr sold a few cows; we were sur- sid to find a man of Mr. Carr's preten- ns engaged in selling this kind of stock— had better look out for the inspector.

SHEEP AND LAMBS.

The supply of Sheep on sale to-day was ch larger than during any preceeding since last fall, and, as a consequence, market was exceedingly dull, and, mpared with last week, prices have de- ned from one to one and a half cents per nd. Every pen about the yards was ed, and at, ten o'clock, there must have n over five hundred head unsold. Early the day some few prime fat mutton ep sold at 6½ to 7, but towards noon, ers experienced no difficulty in getting they wanted at 5½ to 6. Common and erior went off very slowly, and the de- e in these grades, was even greater n in good Sheep. Lambs were also nty and dull and lower, ranging from 50 to $3,50 per head—some few extra nging $4. The reported sales were as ows.

Stakely & Bro. report 135 head Sheep Lambs at 5 to 6c for the former, and 50 to $3 per head for the latter.

Adam Eckert reports having sold 52 head mbs at $2 to $4½.

W. M. Fowler reports 57 head at $2 to per head for Sheep, and $1,50 to $3,25 for mbs.

James Shaw reports 100 head at $3 to per head for Sheep, and $1,25 to $3 for mbs.

. Smith reports 84 Butler Co. Lambs at 5 to $4 per head.

Barwin & Co. report 178 head at 3 to 6c pound for Sheep, and $1,50 to $3 for mbs.

Peter Sheitementel 58 head of mixed eep at $2,50 to $6,20 per head.

G. Neely 87 head of Washington Co. eep; 24 to Richardson, averaging 100 lbs, ½.

Davis sold for Slater 106 Penna. Sheep at 6.

Emerick & Co. 150 head at 5¼ to 7.

When we left the yards the following ties had not sold any worth speaking Aull & Myers, 187; McMillen & Kerr, L. Beeler, 60, and some other lots.

New York Dry Goods Market.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 1.—The weather finally has become more settled, without however stimulating the demand in the least, and trade remains dull as ever. Prices in the meantime are without quotable alteration.

River and Weather.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

LOUISVILLE, June 1.—River falling with six feet three inches in the canal by mark. Weather sultry.

ST. LOUIS, June 1.—Weather warm, with a very heavy rain this afternoon.

RIVER NEWS.

Both rivers continue to recede steadily at this point with eight feet ten inches in the Monongahela, and about nine and a half feet in the Allegheny. The weather continues clear and pleasant, and all that could possibly be desired for the transaction of out-door business.

The Julia No. 2, from Zanesville; and St. Marys, from Cincinnati, arrived last night, both with very good trips. The former left again for Cincinnati last evening.

The J. N. McCullough, from Cincinnati, is due here to-morrow, and will return as usnal on Thursday.

The Glendale and Kate Robinson, from St. Louis, were due here last night, and will doubtless be found in port this morning.

Captain Hugh Campbell is hard at work loading the Mary Dauage barges for St. Louis. Captain Campbell is an old horse in the harness, and what he don't know about steamboating is scarcely worth knowing.

The towbots Resolute, from Cairo, and the Dick Fulton, from Natchez, arrived at Louisville, on Friday last, en route for Pittsburgh with tows of empty barges. The Boaz and Grand Lake, from New Orleans, were due there on Saturday.

Edward Sturges, watchman of the towboat Sam Brown, on Thursday night fell from a barge in tow of the boat, above Cape Girardeau, and was drowned. Sturges was lately from England, and is not known to have any relatives in this country. If his body is found Capt. Gordon, of the Brown, will have it buried.

The Armenia was to have left St. Louis for Pittsburgh on Saturday morning. The following is her cargo; 200 tons ore for Spaulding, Woodward & Co., Steubenville; 400 bbls sand for Jas. B. Lyon, Pittsburgh; 600 bbls flour for Clarke & Co., Pittsburgh; 100 tons pig iron for Nimick & Co., Pittsburgh, and has 15 passengers. Albert Williamson and Scott pilots.

Capt. Pink Varble, the well-known fall pilot, brought the towboat Resolute from the foot of the canal over the falls, through the Indian chute, to the Louisville wharf in thirty-two minutes, which is the best time ever made by any boat through the chute.

John Maloy, a well-known river clerk, fell and broke his leg, at Camdem, Arkansas, rendering amputation necessary, from the effects of which he died.

Car Heater and Moderator,

For SMOKE AND HOT AIR FLUES, dispensing with the use of Stoves and Fires in or about the Passenger or Baggage Cars, with the attachment to graduate the heat to any temperature that may be desired without the possibility of firing the car or to which the Jacket may be attached.

Having obtained of the United States Letters Patent for a Safety Jacket which is warranted to resist the most intense heat that may be applied to it in the position and purpose for which it is intended. It is a sure protection from accidents by fire, originating from defective flues, or where iron pipes are used as conductors for smoke or heat. It is applicable to all piping that may become overheated, and is warranted to give perfect satisfaction where wood or other combustible material may be placed in close proximity thereto. I am now ready to apply my invention to stores, dwellings, factories, ships, steamboats, railroad cars, &c., wherever pipes as conductors are used dangerous by being overheated and security desired. I will sell, on application, rights to manufacture or to use the above invention; also, territorial rights, to such as may wish to engage in selling privileges, either by State or county.

THE CONVENTIONS.

The Republican Conventions which hold session in this city to-day will be charged with grave and responsible duties, and a confiding constituency look to the delegates to leave nothing undone to ensure glorious triumph, and to do nothing which may mar the brilliancy of the campaign. There is more work ahead than the mere designation of suitable candidates for the various offices within the gift of the people in October; a plan of action is to be made; a line of operation determined, and a pioneer corps of good, reliable, active working men—men who are impressed with the true importance of their duties—must be selected from the very best material afforded and constituted a County Executive Committee. Let no unknown or irresponsible party be placed in charge of such a weighty piece of political machinery, and let no man accept the position unless he has determined in his heart that he will do all in his power, exert his best efforts, be diligent and active, guarded and watchful, so that the campaign may be marked with order, harmony and precision and overwhelming victory secured in the end.

Work is the word. Spasmodic spurts of political industry will accomplish no good result, but constant, increasing labor is required to secure the majority of ten thousand which Allegheny county must give to GRANT and COLFAX, for her word of promise to achieve that glorious honor has been sounded from one end of the country to the other, and it can and must be redeemed, no matter what exertion it may cost.

IN certain circles in this Commonwealth the impression seems to prevail that the succession to the seat in the United States Senate, soon to be vacated by Mr. BUCKALEW, is to be put up at legislative auction, and knocked down to the highest bidder, who has boldness to take the chances, whether he has brains and accomplishments for the place or not. We take this early occasion to express the belief that this expectation, by whomsoever entertained, is doomed to disappointment.

The next Senator ought to be taken from the Western portion of the State, provided a suitable man shall be presented. We believe somewhat in the claims of location, but never to the extent of putting an incompetent or inferior individual into a place because he happens to reside in a particular spot or region.

Heretofore the claims of the West have been pressed, as to this office, and been denied, for want of unanimity among our people. Now, there seems to be a general and spontaneous turning towards Mr. STANTON. Be sure, he does not want that place, or any public position whatever. He is wanted all the more on that account. He has abilities, enjoys the public confidence, and the weight of his name and services will crush out factionists and traffickers. Besides, a few months of relaxation may induce him to abate his demands for retirement, and lead him to acquiesce in the popular judgment and desire. What say the Republican journals of Pennsylvania to this suggestion?

WE CONGRATULATE the friends of an unobstructed river navigation upon the disposition so decidedly manifested in both Houses of Congress, to regulate by Federal authority the construction of bridges across the Western rivers, in such manner as to occasion the least possible impediments to the freedom of the channel-way. It is understood that a bill will be reported in the House from the proper committee, at the earliest moment, providing a system of regulations for the construction of all bridges, requiring, among other things, that no span between piers shall be less than five hundred feet. Such a bill, guarding alike the marine and railway interests, would undoubtedly pass both Houses promptly.

AN Indiana judge, at Lawrenceburg, has won marked honor for his faithful administration of the law, in the sentence of forty day's imprisonment upon two noted prize fighters. We commend the example to officers of the law elsewhere, in the hope that thereby a disgustingly brutal business may be broken up effectually.

DISCOMFORTS OF POLITICAL MANAGERS.

Most commonly when an important election is approaching, and it becomes necessary to select candidates for places of high responsibility a large squad of chronic grumblers begin to curse the political managers. They exclaim, "Why do not the leaders bring forward better timber, if they want us to support the nomination? The people are entitled to the best, and it is a shame to put them off with second-rate or worse." That sounds well; but, after all, in the majority of cases there is no reason in these complaints, as the growlers would comprehend if they should undertake the task of party management. The difficulty, they would find to consist in getting the most suitable men to take office.

Why will not such lawyers as MARSHALL, BROWN, KIRKPATRICK, and the like, take a nomination for Congress? Because they are making money, which they need, in their professional pursuit. They will not break away, take the heart out of the best part of their lives, go to Congress, and make a bare living at it, and return to private life in a few years, to find their practice gone irrecoverably, their habits of professional application broken up, and themselves and families altogether the worse for engaging in the public service.

Why do such business men as PHILLIPS, MCAULEY, HUSSEY, and the like, refuse to be nominated for Congress? They are rich, and want to be richer, immersed in their own concerns, and mean to be. The politicians who have importuned a score of such men in a single district to accept a Congressional nomination, think they have acquitted themselves well in the premises.

Occasionally, an eminent lawyer is found, who has "made his pile," or has resolved, at all hazards to embark on a career of statesmanship, and he is ready to serve the people. Commonly, however, they are third or fifth rate lawyers, whose practice is not worth anything, who are anxious to incur the chances of public life. This sort conceive, because they have thumbed Blackstone and Chitty, without getting any thing out of them, that they are fit for any public place—in the General Assembly, in Congress, in the War or Navy or Treasury Department, in foreign missions, and in the Presidency. They really constitute the political aristocracy of this country; holding most of the high offices, and yet fit for none; carrying into public affairs the worst habits of the profession, and none of the better; advocates everywhere, who take retainers for any measure, yet claim to be dignified statesmen; corrupt and corrupting the whole realm of public administration.

So, too, once in a while a capable business man goes to Congress; always worth a dozen talkers except of that highest grade known as genuine orators, who are rarer than meteors, and sent as illustrations of what human nature, in its highest developments, is really capable of. But these business men, who are content to expend rare powers for the public good, instead of for their own, are purely exceptional.

Yet the grumblers stoutly maintain that "There are able men enough, if they were only diligently sought out." All we have to say is, the natural-born leaders of a city, district, or nation, do not have to be hunted with lighted candles. They come to the surface and dominate by virtue of their own inherent qualities. Who sought out GRANT, SHERMAN, THOMAS, SHERIDAN? They worked their own way to the top, and none could hinder them. Who piloted, GREELY, WADE, CAMERON, COLFAX? They were the architects of their own conspicuity. The root of the matter was in them; the qualities of leadership and by internal propulsion they came into the foreordained sphere. True, the poet says:

"Full many a rose is born to blush unseen
And waste its fragrance on the desert air."

That may be so much the worse for the rose; but we see no help for it. Precisely so with men. If they were foreordained to private station, they may as well make the best of it; for there is no sorcery that can avail them. A person cannot be wrenched out of natural insignificance and be transformed into an acknowledged and successful leader of men. Hundreds of men may fancy they are fit for Congress; partial friends may concur in that flattering self-judgment; but if they disclose no qualities of leadership that strike the popular apprehension and compel spontaneous recognition, they had better be content with their obscurity, no matter how galling it may be.

The fact is that public life, honestly followed, does not pay, either in money or honor, as well as private callings, but are altogether more precarious. Ordinarily, as soon as a public man has attained a familiarity with his duties, so as to make their performance easy to himself and advantageous to his constituents, he is thrust aside, through popular fickleness. This is another potent reason that constrains men of unusual powers, recognized as natural leaders, to refuse the function.

Hence, we conclude that the political managers are often more sinned against than sinning. They would do better than they do, in selecting candidates, if they were free to pick, and the public was not so volatile in likes and dislikes.

HON. JOHN ALLISON.

We are glad to learn that a movement is on foot at Washington, joined in by many of his old associates in Congress, to elect Mr. ALLISON to the clerkship of the Senate in place of Col. JNO. W. FORNEY, resigned. Mr. ALLISON represented the Beaver, Lawrence and Mercer District in Congress some years ago, and was esteemed in Congress for his great purity of character as well as for his discrimination and judgment. In the western part of the State where he is personally known, no man stands higher in the confidence of the people and no selection could be made for the vacant clerkship that would be more universally approved. We would greatly rejoice to hear of his election.

THE Senate amends the Arkansas bill in several important particulars, which are likely to receive the concurrence of the House.

REPUBLICAN LEADERSHIP.

There is much force in the suggestion of a looker-on upon recent scenes at Washington, who predicted three weeks ago that the jealousies, which embittered the old-time leaders of the Republican party against the rising influence of its younger and more active men, not only afforded the real explanation of the manifest proclivities of the former class to withhold their concurrence in the practical counsels which inspired the majority of the House, but would be likely to endanger the final success of the pending impeachment. Herein was unquestionably to be seen an active, leading cause of the late defection of certain Senators from a plain duty recommended by all the political considerations which had been potent with them for a life-time, sustained by a regard for their own personal and official consistency, and positively demanded by the clearest instructions of patriotism. That great measure was a critically momentous one in its conduct and issue. It was justly comprehended as being an unprecedented strain upon the constitutional powers which, for eighty years since their first creation, had slept in abeyance. It was not forgotten that the framers of the government, and all publicists of whatever party since, had regarded the power of impeachment of a President of the United States as only a shadowy concession to a theory, a philosophical abstraction, never to be practically realized as the necessary remedy for any perilous contingency likely to arise, but logically rounding up the symmetry of a system, and intended, so far as it could work any positive good, to do it rather in the way of prevention than punishment. It was recognized as an ultimate resort only for the most desperate case. Precisely that case was presented when the Executive disputed the law-making power, and assumed a prerogative of disobedience which, if acquiesced in, was fatal to the proper theory of our government.

A very large majority of the nation demanded the application of the extreme remedy, as the only one which could reach and remove the cause of so much danger. The Senate itself indicated the necessity for that application. The House accepted the duty thus cast upon it. The offender had no apologists; there was no party to defend him. The great political body in opposition to the Republicans made haste to declare that it had no part with the offending magistrate, disclaiming any responsibility for his misconduct and avowing itself content with his prospective deposition from office. Nevertheless, it freely declared its intention to improve for its own partizan ends any contingency that proceedings in impeachment might develope. Yet the Republican party, having a clear constitutional majority in both houses of Congress, and supported by the consenting judgment of a popular preponderance, have failed to carry through a measure which both houses were equally committed to and which was the necessary logical sequence of the political principles professed and supported by Republican Senators and Representatives.

Four Senators, each of them heretofore highly regarded as influential and leading Republicans, are responsible for this defeat. We make no account of the two (Ross and Van Winkle) whose votes the four found it requisite to secure to make their defection fatal to the measure. The additional votes were needed, and these two men, with FOWLER, were found the most readily procurable. They were used as tools, and as such may be dismissed from any consideration of the causes for the recent disappointment. Nor is it worth while to waste words upon FOWLER, who, in or out of the Republican ranks, has had no prominent and influential position. But Messrs. TRUMBULL, FESSENDEN, HENDERSON and GRIMES have always been recognized as Republican leaders, prominent in public life at the capital, and of great influence with our political friends in their respective States. Yet it had been evident to themselves, as well as to the general observer, that for some time past their influence has been waning. Younger and more active men have come forward to dispute with them the leadership. Such men as BLAINE, FARNESWORTH, JUDD, WASHBURNE, DRAKE and WILSON have become more faithfully the exponents of vigorous and effective Republican sentiment in their own States, while, at the Capital, the counsels of the party for three past years have been guided by these representatives, reinforced by COLFAX, BINGHAM, BOUTWELL, WILLIAMS, BUTLER and other men of that stamp, even including STEVENS whose advanced years are still illuminated by all the fire and enthusiasm of youth.

For three years, the progressive developments of the Republican policy have been initiated and conducted by the men whom we specify, and the large class of representatives who have sympathized with them. They have been radical; that is to say, they have been sincere in their political faith, and thorough in the action which it demanded. It is this class of men, seconded by WILLIAMS, SUMNER, MORTON, CAMERON and a few others in the Senate, with whom all the leading measures of the past three years have originated and by whom all the hard work has been done. The Senators who, the other day, stultified themselves in voting for the President's acquittal, have as uniformly, for the same period, been a drag upon the radicalism which is the essence of our party, forever interposing their captious criticisms, or a sullen, obstinate dissent, in the way of measures which were at last dragged through in spite of them. They chose to style this hold-back policy conservatism, but it was plainly nothing but jealousy and personal pique. They saw that their own day of leadership had gone by, and, since they could no longer rule, it was not long before they determined to ruin. The Republican party is still fortunately too strong for them and they find themselves the only victims of their own most discreditable defection. The party proceeds to fresh and more complete triumphs, with GRANT and COLFAX for its candidates, and led by living, earnest, vigorous and popular representatives.

Let us also hope that the Senate will not always remain a Hospital for Invalids, to be filled with soured and superannuated veterans, with whom the selfishness of age has overgrown all political enthusiasm, and who would rather see a battle lost to the country than won by their popular successors in the Republican leadership.

THE FIFTEENTH PRESIDENT.

We announce this morning the death of a distinguished citizen and native of Pennsylvania—JAMES BUCHANAN, who was the XVth President of the United States, born in Franklin county, April 22d, 1791, died June 1st, at his residence near Lancaster. He had been for some months an invalid, but, latterly, his friends had hoped that he might regain as much health as is naturally permitted to seventy-seven years of age. These hopes were not realized; he experienced a relapse, sank rapidly, and passed away at an early hour yesterday morning, retaining consciousness to almost his latest moments.

The deceased was during a long and conspicuous career actively and influentially identified with the political events and the public interests of his State and of the nation. Called to the bar in his 22d year, he speedily acquired reputation, and in his 24th year entered upon public life as a member of the State Legislature. In 1820 he was chosen a Representative in Congress, remaining therein ten years. In 1831, he was sent by President JACKSON as Minister to Russia, and negotiated an important commercial treaty with that power. In 1833, returning home, he was elected to the United States Senate, serving twelve years. In 1845 he became Secretary of State under Mr. POLK, and negotiated a settlement of the Oregon boundary question, having aided in its consummation by the advice of the Senate. Retiring from the Cabinet in 1849 he remained in private life until appointed by President PIERCE in 1853 Minister to England, in which capacity his participation in the celebrated Ostend Conference meeting of our Ministers at European Courts to discuss the propriety of the proposed acquisition of Cuba,—was the most prominent event of his mission. Returning home in 1856, he was selected as the Democratic candidate for the Presidency. His election, the four years of his administration and his retirement at its end from public life, are matters familiarly in the memory of our readers.

A Federalist in the outset of his political career, he became a Democrat of the strictest sect, and lived long enough to witness the complete final triumph of the Federalism which he had labored for fifty years to overthrow. More consistent in another respect, he survived to behold the absolute and perpetual extinguishment of the institution of slavery which he had from his earliest years defended as an essential element in our political system. Uniformly a champion of the peculiar political privileges enjoyed by the Southern States, and as uniformly, and with even more ability and zeal, an opponent of the Northern agitation of the high question of Liberty for all men, he looked out from the retirement of age to behold the sectionalism which he had denounced at the North, arraying itself at the South in arms against the Union, and at last conquered into obedience, its special privileges obliterated, and that Northern agitation which he had deplored ripening into the Constitutional mastery of the destinies of the Republic. Entering upon the Chief Magistracy in 1857, at a period of more than ordinary political repose—Kansas furnishing the only vexed questions of our politics—he found the country quiet, prosperous and as firmly united as the essential contradictions then embodied in its Constitution could admit. He retired at the end of four years after from a great trust which he had so administered as to bring the Republic to the utmost verge of a fatal ruin. As politician and statesman he had, in all his public career, aimed at the pacification of sectional questions in our domestic politics, and he lived to witness, under his own Executive administration, the inevitable culmination of that policy which he had denounced, in the most sanguinary and critical rebellion ever known to a civilized people. And the pacification which he had desired came at last, not as the fruits of his policy, but in spite of it, the naturally matured and victorious issue of the GOD-given instincts of a free people.

Charged by his country with foreign trusts, he was moderately successful, and would have been remembered in history as a fortunate diplomatist rather than as a great statesman. With the brief intervals of such employments abroad, his career of nearly fifty years in our domestic politics, however, it may have seemed at times to be marked by temporary partizan triumphs, will be recorded in the history of the Republic, as a career of mistakes, and of failures, crowned finally by the most fatal proof of his incapacity to comprehend and be faithful to the dominant spirit of our constitutions. How fatal those proofs were near to becoming, not only to his reputation as a Chief Magistrate, but to the national honor, to the life of the Union, to the continued existence of the Republic itself, we do not deem it needful to specify now. The faults of that system of political ideas of which Mr. BUCHANAN was peculiarly an exponent have been atoned for at a fearful cost of blood and suffering.

We have spoken of Mr. BUCHANAN as a public man. There is little else to be said of him. Living single, he leaves no family behind him, and it is only as a public man, and by the historian that his memory will be preserved.

POLITICAL STATUS OF THE BOLTING SENATORS.

We are at liberty to congratulate our Republican friends that the Senate is still under the control of a working majority of patriotic and consistent members, who remain faithful to the great interests entrusted to them. The ordinary legislation and Executive business of the session will, as heretofore, be disposed of by a majority which can neither be bribed nor deceived. The public confidence in the integrity and fidelity of this reliable Republican majority is not abated by their indignant refusal, a day or two since, to confer, in the private deliberations of a caucus, with the six recreants who had the assurance to present themselves at its meeting. Our Senators very properly declined to be irritated into any formal expression of disgust at this impertinence, but quietly adjourned at once leaving TRUMBULL & Co. to deliberate by themselves. If these latter gentlemen are sincere in their averments that they still hold to the Republican faith, and have the interests of the party at heart, they should be content to accept the undeniable fact that, for the present at least, yet further self-sacrifice will become them, and they will forbear to intrude where they are not wanted. Let them remember that the country is still sore from their treachery, and that a decent regard for the sensitiveness which they must be aware of will not be incompatible with their own protestations of injured innocence, or with a more dignified abstinence from such intrusions. In short, these Senators, whom the public sense has impeached, understand precisely the extent of the turpitude of which they are everywhere accused, and, if conscious of their own innocence, would naturally be impelled by an honest indignation to forbear participation in strictly partizan matters, until time and enquiry shall have worked their vindication. It strikes us that something like this would accord with the instinctive impulses of honorable men. Nor would either the public business, or the interests of the Republican party, suffer thereby.

WE SHOULD place but little confidence in the rumor which ascribes to Chief Justice CHASE, in the further postponement of the trial of JEFFERSON DAVIS, a desire to avoid an unpleasant complication to the damage of his Presidential aspirations, if it were not for his recent and peculiar record. It is quite possible that in procuring the postponement of the trial the Chief Justice was not influenced by any personal motive of this discreditable character, but it is equally possible that a Judge who has made such a personal record as he has in the impeachment trial would not stop at any improprieties less grave. No one denies that he is a candidate for the Presidency; that he desires the Democratic nomination; that there is a strong interest in that party in his favor; that his ambition in that direction has led him already to degrade his own official dignity and to the loss of the national respect. It is not long since he declared to a friend in Washington—and it was pending the trial of Mr. JOHNSON—that "he would rather be President one month than Chief Justice for a life-time." In the light of such declarations and of his recent record, we find little difficulty in believing that he would go to any length in making his present office subservient to his ambition for the other. And a Judge who is capable of this needs only the opportunity and the temptation to become a Jeffreys for the blood of the innocent, or a Bacon for the plunder of suitors.

EVERY VIOLATION

Of the laws of health invariably entails its own punishment, and the warnings administered by the faithful monitor (pain) cannot be neglected with impunity. If its admonitions were heeded, and the proper remedy immediately resorted to, a vast amount of suffering would be prevented, and dangerous diseases averted. When the head throbs, the lips become parched, and the cheek is burning—the warning is given; neglect is then dangerous. In the vast storehouses of nature may be found remedies for all the different maladies that afflict mankind, without resorting to pernicious minerals. The best of these medicinal agents have been incorporated in the preparation known as HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, and offered as a safe remedy to those suffering from the various forms of fever. This medicine has steadily and surely won its way into the confidence of the public, and has received the warmest encomiums from the press and people throughout the Union. As a valuable tonic for the cure of Dyspepsia, Flatulence, Constipation and general nervous debility, it cannot be approached. Every day new cases of its great effect are chronicled through our public journals. There is nothing equal to the enjoyment which the afflicted experience when using this valuable specific. Its mild tone, its sure and vigorous action upon a disordered stomach, and the cleansing of the entire human body, should recommend it to all classes o our community.

ADVICE TO CONSUMPTIVES.

DR. KEYSER says: "You want air, not physic; you want pure air, not medicated air; you want plenty of nutrition, such as plenty of meat and bread will give; physic has no nutriment; gasping for air cannot cure you; monkey capers in a gymnasium cannot cure you; and stimulants cannot cure you. If you want to get well, go in for BEEF AND OUT-DOOR AIR."—Republic.

He says further: Don't put off the first symptoms. "A little leak may sink a great ship;" a small sore in the throat, lungs or liver will soon involve the whole body. How often do we see people put off for a year or two what in the beginning could have been remedied for a trifle. The Doctor's advice is, and always has been, attend to the first symptoms of disease. Do not let the constitution become a wreck before you begin to mend; if you do, ten to one there will be no remedy. There is a remedy for every disease if taken in time. A slight sore throat or cough may be removed with comparatively little trouble; but a constitution, sinking and breaking to pieces by allowing these little troubles to accumulate is not so easy. Dr. Keyser's mode of lung sounding is unique, and as thorough as it is unique. There is not a spot or space over the whole surface of the lungs that he does not sound and investigate, and by so doing is enabled to supply the appropriate remedy.

FOR SALE.

A RIVER BOTTOM FARM OF 76 ACRES, 19 miles from the city, in Elizabeth township, Allegheny county, Pa., on the Youghiogheny river, one-half mile from Elrod's Station, on the Connellsville railroad; near churches, schools, stores, &c., in the flourishing villages of Boston and Green Oak. The improvements are a two-story brick house of six rooms, hall and cellar, a good frame bank barn with stabling underneath, and other outbuildings; a well of good standing water at the door, and several standing springs of water on the farm, and an orchard of 200 trees of selected fruits of apples, cherries, pears, peaches, quinces and grapes. This property being located near the line of the railroad, within one hour's ride of the city, makes it very desirable for gardening or a dairy farm; it is also a good and beautiful location for country homes near the city, lying immediately on the river, on the opposite side from the railroad. The West Newton Accomodation and other trains on the railroad afford certain and frequent opportunities of daily communication to and from the city. Will be sold as a whole or in lots of one acre or more, to suit purchasers.

Also, A FARM OF 173 ACRES, situated in St. Clair township, Westmoreland county, Pa., near the line of the Pennsylvania Railroad at Houston Station. The improvements are a two-story frame house, with six rooms and good cellar, a frame bank barn 40 by 60 feet, and other outbuildings. There is on the place a young apple and peach orchard; 120 acres cleared land, divided into fields of convenient size, a large portion of which are well set in clover and timothy; the residue of said tract covered with good timber. It is well watered and underlaid with coal and limestone, and is convenient to churches, schools, stores, mills and blacksmith shops. A real good bargain is offered in this excellent farm; and with it will be sold all the personal property on the premises, consisting of horses, cows, stock cattle, hogs and poultry, harness, gears, wagon, plows, farming implements and household and kitchen furniture. Together will be sold very low and on easy terms, to a responsible purchaser.

Also, a desirable and very fertile Tract of Land of 158 ACRES AND 25 PERCHES, in Elizabeth Tp., Allegheny county, Pa., on the line of the Hempfield railroad, and one and one-half miles from the Connellsville railroad at Sater's Station. On this farm are 40 acres of superior white oak timber, which alone is now worth one-half the price asked for the whole tract. The improvements are a log house, frame barn, good fencing, and an apple orchard of good fruit. It is well watered and underlaid with limestone and flag stone of a superior quality, with stone coal for the use of the farm.

Also, The best FARM in Fairfield township, Westmoreland county, Pa., of 250 ACRES, about six miles south of the Pennsylvania Central Railroad at Bolivar Station. The improvements are two large hewed log dwellings; one of the largest and best frame barns in the township; two apple orchards, in good bearing condition; corn crib, wagonshed and other outbuildings. The whole farm is under a high state of cultivation; fencing all in first rate order, and the land of the best quality of limestone soil, about 200 acres of which is cleared and the residue of the tract in good timber, such as white oak, rock oak, hickory, walnut and beech. This property will be sold very cheap and on good terms, as the owner wishes to engage in other business. For particulars enquire of FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, MONDAY, June 1, 1868.

Gold was firm early in the day, on the information of a reaction of American securities in London, and an increased demand for cash gold to pay for imported goods; but, at the close, the market was dull and a fraction off.

Government securities took a fresh start to-day, and advanced from ¾ to ⅞ per cent. The Five Twenties of 1867 were the strongest, being in demand for the exchange for Seven Thirties, and on speculation to be used for export. It is doubtful, however, whether European capitalists are as sanguine as New York speculators. Europeans have persistently stuck to the Five Twenties of 1862, and it will be difficult to change their opinions, especially when they are to pay as much for 1867s as for 1862s. Prices of Governments are decidedly beyond the notions of the mass of the people for investment, and, although quotations may be still more advanced, it must prove a non-paying investment to buy at present quotations.

Railroad shares are on the rise, but transactions are limited.

Money is easy, and long prime investments are made at from 8 to 9 per cent. Business very quiet.

Closing quotations as received by Ph. R. Mertz, were as follows:

Gold, 139¾; 1881 bonds, 116⅝; 1862 5-20s, 112⅜; 1864 do, 110½; 1865 do, 110½; Consols, 113⅛; 10-40s, 106; 7-30s, 109½.

Railroads—Cleveland & Pittsburgh, 88½; Fort Wayne, 116¾; North Western, common 68¾; North Western—preferred, 81⅛; New York Central, 134¾; Erie, 69½; Old Southern, 89¾; Ohio & Mississippi, 30¼; Merchants Union Express, 28½; Western Union Telegraph, 38⅝. Mining Shares—Corydon, 30; Quartz Hill, 105; Quicksilver, 30¾; Smith & Parmalee, 3,10; Gregory, 4,80.

—The Philadelphia Press, in speaking of the advance in the price of government bonds, says:

The demand which occasions this rise in price is for the supply both of the home and the foreign market. Many millions of the bonds, especially of the '64s and old '65s, have been purchased with the last month by the foreign banking houses here. The best informed men in these houses, noting the recent temper and tone of the English and continental markets, entertain the view that our bonds will be quoted at London as high as par by this time twelvemonth. The great controlling fact in the government bond market, to-wit: that the Government will in sixty days cease to be a seller and have no more bonds to issue, was foreseen and acted upon by the great bankers of Europe at a date when it was hardly mentioned in print on this side the water. After the first of July the United States, under the law, will become a purchaser instead of a seller of its own securities, and thus the market will be no longer fed by Government issues. The demand thenceforth operating on a supply no longer elastic and expanding, but rigid and fixed, must, on ordinary principles of commerce, enhance the price so soon as it is seen that the demand itself is almost limitless, taking into connection the steady appreciation of our bonds abroad, as well as the fact that more and more capital on this side, of savings banks, trust companies, orphan estates, &c., is tending, month by month, to investment in the national securities. No slight increment of the demand will come from the earnings of the bonds themselves. These will amount to one hundred and twenty millions in gold annually—say one hundred and sixty-eight millions currency at the present figures of premium—disbursed mainly in July and January, and May and November. This fund will maturally incline for investment to the source from which it was earned, and thus furnish a new demand annually for Government bonds, in volume equal to one-seventeenth of their amount. To this might be added a good proportion of the dividends and interest of corporations of all sorts, many millions of dollars annually and quarterly, a part of which will recur to Government bonds as the best and safest medium for bringing steadily remunerative returns.

—Closing quotations received by James T. Brady & Co.:

Gold, 139¾; U. S. 6's, 1881's, 116⅝; 5-20's, 1862, 112⅜; 5-20's, 1864, 110½; 5-20's, 1865, 110⅛; 10-40's, 106; 5-20's, January and July, '65, 113; 5-20's, January and July, '67, 113⅜; June 7-30's, 110⅝; July 7-30's, 110⅝; May Comp., 1865, 119,-40.

New York Cattle Market.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 1.—Receipts—4,388 head beeves, 19,681 head sheep and lambs; 23,601 head hogs. Beef in good demand, and ½c higher; fair extra, at 18½; prime, at 18; fair to good, at 17a17½; ordinary, at 16½a17; inferior, at 15½a15¾. Sheep; lambs, at 2c lower, with free arrivals; demand for extra sheared, at 8c; prime, at 7 a7½; common to good, at 5a6½; inferior, at 4½ag. Hogs depressed by liberal offerings, and prices lower; good stock in fair request; common dull, and sales heavy; corn fed, at 9¼a9¾; fair to good, 8¾a9¼; light to common, at 8¼a8¾.

Philadelphia Market.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

PHILADELPHIA, June 1.—Petroleum quiet and nothing doing. Flour $9,75a11 for northwestern extra family. Wheat dull and drooping; red $2,65a2,80. Rye declined to $2,10. Corn dull; sales 5,000 bu mixed western at $1,14. Oats steady; western 90a95c. Provisions unchanged.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, MONDAY, June 1, 1868.

The general markets are very dull and neglected, with but little prospect at present of any immediate improvement. The indications for an unusually large crop of grain are so highly favorable that the grain markets, both East and West, are beginning to shake, and the same is true of Flour. We should not be surprised to see a heavy decline in the articles referred to before the new crop is harvested, as holders will want to realize, and to do so they will be obliged to make concessions.

BUTTER—Is not coming in so freely, and while the market is dull and weak, prices are unchanged, ranging from 18 to 20c, for prime Roll. Most of the large western shippers are shipping east.

EGGS—Continue to meet with a steady demand, and prices are still tending upward; we now quote at 22 to 23c.

DRIED FRUIT—Continues very dull, with a supply considerably in excess of the demand—sales of Peaches at 12 to 13c, and Apples at 6¼ to 7½c.

FLOUR—The Flour market is dull and weak, and within the past few days there has been a decline of from 25 to 50c per bbl. We have sales of Spring Wheat reported at $10,50 to $10,75; Winter Wheat at $12 to 12,25; "City Mills Springfield," $12,25; "Mad River," $12,25; "White Star," 11,75 "Clarks" and "Sear's" at $10,75. Rye Flour, $10 to $10,25.

HAY—Baled Hay, under the influence of increased receipts, is dull and tending downward. Wagon Hay may be quoted at $20 to $25.

POTATOES — Continue dull but unchanged; we quote at $1,35 to $1,40 for small lots of Prince Albert's and Peach Blows, in store.

HOMINY—Steady at $6,25 to $6,50.

PROVISIONS—Bacon is quiet and unchanged at 14 for Shoulders; 16c to 18c for Ribbed and Clear Sides; 19½ to 20½c for Plain and Canvassed Sugar Cured Hams. Lard, 19 to 19½c. Mess Pork, $29.

LARD OIL—Is still quoted at $1,25 for No. 2, and $1,50 for No. 1.

GRAIN—Wheat is dull and drooping, notwithstanding the arrivals continue light; prime Red Winter cannot be quoted above $2,50. Oats dull but firm; sales of some 300 bush on wharf at 83c, Corn is dull; may be quoted at $1,05 for mixed, and White, and $1,08 to $1,10 for prime Yellow. Rye is nominal at $1,90 to $1,95. No movement in Barley, and none in market.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, MONDAY, June 1, 1868.

CRUDE—There was an increased demand for crude to-day, and while a firmer feeling seemed to exist, no advance as yet, has been established. Three sales in lots of seven thousand one hundred barrels reported, in different lots, all at 10¼c, and all for immediate delivery; holders were unable to spring a fraction, and while no difficulty was realized in obtaining 10¼c, it was found impossible to get any more. One thing that tended to stiffen the market somewhat was the circulating of reports to the effect that the production is decreasing, and that some of the largest wells, among others the "Fee Well," had failed. It has been learned, however, that the report so far as the Fee Well is concerned, is not wholly correct; the sucker rod, it is said, had been lost, but at last accounts she was still producing two hundred barrels per day. It is also alleged that the production has increased fourteen hundred barrels per day within a short time by the striking of new wells. We give these reports as we get them, not for the purpose of influencing the market one way or the other, but merely as items of news.

REFINED—The market for bonded oil is steady but prices are unchanged. We can report sales of 1,000 bbls for the last half of July, at 29c; 2,000 for June, at 28¼c; 384 prime light straw to white, same delivery at 27¼c. We also have reports of 10,000 bbls having been sold on spot in Philadelphia at 30c; and 7,000 do do at 28¼. It seems a little strange that two sales of such magnitude should be made for same delivery, with a difference of a cent and three-quarters in the price.

—Since the above was put in type, we have a sale of 2,500 bbls, 500 each from August to December, at 30c for August, and an advance of half a cent for each subsequent month.

ARRIVALS—The arrivals of oil reported to-day were as follows:

Lockhart & Frew 400	Clark & Sumner. 400
Mawhinney & B. 2000	Buffum & Kehew 160
Leech & Woods. 5000	Fisher & Bro.....4000

R., river front, containing about six acres, with stills, tanks, four steam pumps, settling tanks, all new and in complete order. Capacity of works six to seven hundred barrels refined oil per week. Storage capacity 9,000 barrels; switch to railroad; new dwelling, warehouse, &c. The above works are new and in complete running order. Title indisputable. For particulars inquire of D. W. C. Carroll, trustee, or Carroll & Snyder, Short street.

St. Louis Market.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

ST. LOUIS, June 1.—Tobacco active at full prices: common in fair request. Hemp buoyant; sales at $1,60a1,65; dressed $2,53a3,60. Flour dull, weak and unsettled; sales superfine at $7,25a7,75 for extra, $8,00a8,50 for double extra, $9,00 for treble extra and fancy $11,50a13,75. Wheat 5c lower on all grades; prime to choice red and white fall $2,45a2,55; soft Iowa and Illinois Spring at $1,75a1,85. Corn extremely dull and easier, sales at 85a87½ for mixed and yellow; 89a92 for white. Oats dull and unsettled; sales at 78a80c. Rye lower at $1,70a1,75. Provisions very dull and easier. Pork $28,50. Bacon—shoulders 13½c; clear sides 17a19c. Sugar cured hams 20a21c. Lard dull at 18a19c for steam and kettle in tierces. Live Stock—common to extra Cattle range at $4,50a7,50, gross, with liberal receipts. Sheep in fair local demand at $2a7 per head. Receipts—flour, 16,000 bbls; wheat, 11,500 bush; corn, 23,400 bush; oats, 14,000 bush.

Cincinnati Cattle Market.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CINCINNATI, June 1.—Beef Cattle dull and prices drooping; common to choice $5a8,50. Hogs dull at $7,25a9,25. Sheep dull and in good supply at $3a5,50 per cental, gross.

FARM, GARDEN AND HOUSEHOLD.

[From the Germantown Telegraph.]

—When the fruit of your strawberry beds is swelling they should be patiently watered in the absence of rain. It has a marked effect upon the perfectness and size of the berry.

—Rub off all the sprouts upon the stocks which you have set with grafts this spring. It will help to push along the growth of the scion. Not unfrequently grafts, after they have started, die for want of sap from the parent stem to sustain them.

—The trees transplanted this spring should be mulched as soon as the ground becomes dry. For this purpose grass is as good as anything. Don't put around the tree too much at a time, and repeat the mulch when it gets dry and thin. Remove it once or twice during the summer, and stir up the ground well, then replace it. It will save many a tree, if the season should be hot and dry, which we think this season will be.

Your raspberry and blackberry beds should also be well mulched. Any quantity of dry stuff about a place, especially leaves, scrapings, &c., will do. An application of the contents of a hot bed is very beneficial.

—A few radish seed planted around your canteloupe hills will ordinarily protect the vine against the striped bug. This dangerouse enemy of the melon prefers the radish to the melon leaves, and thus, while feeding on the radish, the other gets the start of it, and pushes on out of reach of danger, as the leaf of the melon is attacked only when very young and tender.

—When your flower plants get from an inch and a half to two inches high, they can be thinned out and transplanted. It should be done after a rain, or the ground from which they are taken and whither they are put should be thoroughly moistened.

—Radishes always do better when planted in new ground, or at least ground where they have not heretofore been. Old gardens are the worst places in the world for radishes. You will rarely obtain any sound ones. Clay mixed with the old soil vitalizes it greatly and will produce good radishes.

—Tomatoes, egg and cabbage plants, after being set out, generally become somewhat wilted in their leaves, and lose some of them from the effects of the sun before they become established. This can be prevented by setting over the plant, say from eight or nine to four or five o'clock in the day, boxes in the shape of cones about fourteen inches in height, open at the top. They also protect the plants against frost. By the use of these boxes a week is gained in time, and sometimes the plants saved from severe or fatal injury. The boxes will last twelve or fifteen years.

If you find any of your evergreens to become lighter in color than is natural for them, or rather if you wish the deepest green attainable, give them a thorough dressing of good barn-yard manure, extending as far out as the extremity of the branches, and you will accomplish your wish.

—If shrubbery or fruit trees transplanted this season look sickly or backward in growing prune them sharply. It is the only way to save them, their setting out and other things being duly attended to.

—All raspberry and blackberry canes set out this spring should be cut down to within six inches of the ground, if not done when set out. It will insure the growth of the new wood, and they will come into fine bearing order next year; whereas, should the canes be allowed to remain only partially pruned, as other bearing wood, there may be a small crop of poor fruit, and only about half a crop next year. Some people are so eager to get fruit at once that they totally neglect this advice.

—Those who have not set out "cuttings" of grapes, shrubbery, &c., can lay the branches down, say two inches under ground, letting the end of the branch appear. Sometimes it will require a forked stick to hold them in their places. A grape vine can be laid down its whole length, and if carefully done will throw out a sprout from each joint, making a beautiful arrangement for the trellis.

POLES, OR HORIZONTAL STRINGS FOR HOPS.—A hop grower asserts in the Country Gentleman that the horizontal string mode of training the hop is inferior to the old long pole system. The cost of training on poles is far less and the cost of picking the hops from the poles is less.

RAW INDIAN MEAL FOR CHICKENS.—A recent writer says he found out more than fifty years ago that raw Indian meal will kill chicks. He feeds wheat, or wheat screenings, mixed with a very little cracked corn, with bread soaked in milk or water, and scalded meal.

WEIGHT OF MILK.—In answer to an inquiry, Mr. X. A. Willard says: Probably 8½ pounds of milk would be about right for a gallon, wine measure. The usual rule adopted by our factories is to estimate ten pounds of milk to the gallon, the gallon being beer measure. We know no reason for this measure being adopted for milk further than that it is easier to estimate—ten pounds of milk being considered an average sufficient to make one pound of cheese.

LIMA BEAN CULTURE.—Set poles four feet apart each way, in deep, rich, mellow soil, or that made so by working in a fine compost. Prepare your hills around the poles, and with the thumb and finger press in five seeds, with the eye down. Plant as soon as danger from frost has passed. Cover one inch deep; keep clean; fork the soil over between the hills. If the vines do not cling to the poles, tie them up; they will soon take to them.

To hasten maturity, after the poles are covered and the pods set, pinch off the ends of the shoots and keep them back, which throws the strength of the vine towards perfecting early fruit, though at the expense of quantity,

Market, for using green, just before the pod begins to turn yellow, when the bean has attained nearly its full size; or for winter use, after they are fully ripe.

THE SCUPPERNONG GRAPE,—A Raleigh, N. C., correspondent of the Country Gentleman, writes: "The manufacture of Scuppernong wine is rapidly becoming one of the leading interests of Eastern North Carolina. The range of this vine—its habitat—is the same as that of the long-leaf pine, viz.: the sand hills, or "pine barrens," on our coast, and extending nearly 100 miles inland. It does not thrive west of this belt in the State. There are thousands of square miles of these pine barrens for sale at one to three dollars per acre, valued heretofore only as turpentine lands, which will soon be turned into vineyards, producing one thousand gallons of wine to the acre.

A CORN MARKER.—A man who has a wheel horse-rake which makes tracks nine feet apart, fastened up the teeth last year, and attached a heavy log or cable chain to the axeltree, dragging in two places, thus marking two lines, and with the wheels, four, each three feet apart. The marks thus made were all very plain. An axletree of any length may be fitted to such wheels, and as many chains attached as is desired, thus a man can mark his corn and ride the while.

MR. REISET, of the French Academy of Sciences, has recently studied the composition of the gas which causes the swelling of cattle, and frequently ends in death. In the case of a cow, which, while feeding on clover, began to swell and died in less than two hours, in spite of every remedy, he found that the gas (due probably to the fermentation of vegetable matters in the intestines) consisted of three-fourths of carbonic acid, the remainder of protocarburetted hydrogen, with about two per cent. nitrogen. Neither oxygen nor sulphuretted hydrogen was present. A sheep furnished a still larger per centage of carbonic acid. The remedy suggested is calcined magnesia or sucrate of lime, which may save life, by the rapid condensation of the carbonic acid gas. He found also, that when calves were fed on grass, they exhaled with the products of respiration proper, protocarburetted hydrogen in large volume, with some nitrogen; but with a milk or animal diet, the hydrogen disappeared entirely.

CORN MEAL CAKES.—Excellent breakfast cakes can be made in the following manner: Mix two quarts of corn meal, at night, with water, and a little yeast and salt, just thin enough to stir easy. In the morning stir in three or four eggs, a little saleratus and a cup of sour milk, so as to leave it thin enough to pour out of a pan; bake three-quarters of an hour, and you will have large, rich, honey-comb cakes; and with a good cup of coffee and sweet butter at breakfast, one finds with Hamlet "increase of appetite to grow with what it feeds on."

Suffolk Hogs.

Some of your correspondents take great delight in casting slurs upon these, the most harmless and easily kept of all hogs. I have raised them in great abundance for the last ten years, and meanwhile have tried all other kinds. I unhesitatingly give it as my opinion that they will furnish the most pork for the least money and with the least trouble of any other kinds of hogs. They run in the same pasture with my cattle and sheep and my young geese, ducks, turkeys and chickens play around them with impunity. If a man wants a quarrel with his neighbor about hog damages, wants his pasture rooted all over, wants his young lambs or poultry killed, or wants the largest possible amount of pork from a single hog, cost what it will, I recommend him to try some other kind. There is one other advantage with the Suffolks; they are always ready for the butcher, keeping themselves continually fat and clean, never wallowing in the watering places, even in the hottest of weather to the annoyance of cattle. Making pens for my breeding sows near my potato patch, last year, I made my young pigs of great service in helping my turkeys destroy the potato bugs, and yet doing no mischief. They certainly make the least offal of any other kind, an important consideration when hogs are kept near the house.

How to Cure Sick Poultry.

MARTINSVILLE, Clinton Co., April 23.

To the Editor of the Cincinnati Gazette:

I have seen and read in your valuable paper a treatment for chickens and other fowls, for "poultry diseases." We lost a great many chickens from the above, and I inspected several; found diseased liver and enlargement of the heart. I then put them upon the following: Calomel, 30 grains; pulverized resin, 60 grains; add 1 gallon of corn meal, and mix well; give twice per week. Since I commenced the above we have not lost one. Farmers will do well to try it. I am, your old friend, &c.,

Pittsburgh Petroleum Association—Special Meeting—Resolutions—The Attempt to "Corner" Dealers Condemned.

A special meeting of the Pittsburgh Petroleum Association was held on Monday, June 1st, at three o'clock P. M., at their rooms, No 4 Dalzell's building, Duquesne Way and Irwin street. H. M. Long, Esq., President, in the chair.

Mr. A. F. Brooks, Secretary, read the minutes of the preceeding meeting, which were approved.

Major Wm. Frew offered the following resolution:

WHEREAS, The new tax bill reported by the Committee on Ways and Means retains the odious principle of discrimination against the manufacture of refined oil, not only by a specific tax of nearly fifty per cent. on its value, but by a series of most embarrassing restrictions which threaten the most serious results to the business; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Pittsburgh Petroleum Association respectfully urge our Representatives in Congress, Gen. J. K. Moorhead and Hon. Thos. Williams, to claim for this important interest the same favor which has been extended to all other manufacturers, that of exemption from special taxation, and a release from the unnecessary and almost impracticable regulations of the proposed bill.

The resolution was unanimously adopted.

Mr. Warden moved that a Committee of five be appointed to confer with our representatives in Congress in regard to the above matter. The motion was adopted and Messrs. Wm. Frew, James A. Hutchinson, R. S. Waring, John A. Warden and T. W. Davis appointed said Committee.

On motion the Chairman of the Association was added to the above Committee.

Maj. Wm. Frew offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That the thanks of this Association be and are hereby tendered to the officers of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, the Allegheny Valley Railroad Company and the Western Pennsylvania Railroad Company for the promptitude, energy and liberality manifested by them during the recent disreputable attempt to "corner" the refiners of this city, by which we were enabled to meet all our engagements.

Mr. Kirk objected to the resolution and reflected upon the conduct of some of the members of the Association.

The Chairman ruled him out of order.

Mr. Kirk appealed from the decision.

The Chair was sustained.

After some further discussion on the resolution, Mr. Davis called for the yeas and nays, when the resolution was adopted by a vote of 15 to 2, Messrs. M'Elwaine and Duncan voting in the negative.

While the vote was being taken Mr. Kirk retired from the meeting.

Mr. Davis moved that the following resolution, offered by Mr. Kirk, Aug. 29th, 1867, which was laid on the table at that meeting, be taken up and adopted:

Resolved, That any rings or combinations for the purpose of elevating or depressing the price of oil are a positive injury to the trade, and when any charge is made against any parties for engaging in any combination of the kind, it shall be fully investigated, and if the persons so charged shall be found guilty, they should be properly punished. Adopted.

Mr. Davis moved that a Committee be appointed to make investigation as to whether there has been any disreputable conduct on the part of any of the members of the Association.

After some discussion the motion was withdrawn.

On motion the Association adjourned to meet on Monday, the 8th instant, at two o'clock.

The undersigned wholesale dry goods merchants agree to close their respective places of business from June 1st to September 1st, 1868, at 5 o'clock P. M., and on Saturday at 4 o'clock P. M.: Arbuthnot, Shannon & Co., McCandless, Jamison & Co., D. Gregg & Co., Duncan & Hugus, McLain, Anday & Allison, McElroy, Dickson & Co., Carr, McCandless & Co., Isaac Taylor.

THE COURTS.

United States District Court—Judge McCandless.

Jury trials were resumed in this Court yesterday.

On motion of the District Attorney a nolle pros. was entered in the case of the United States vs. Clara Keeney.

In the case of the United States vs. seventy barrels of Schenck beer, et alia, owned by Andrew Koenig, a verdict was rendered for the United States.

A motion in arrest of judgment was entered in the case of Benjamin Ripkey and Benjamin Breen, convicted of attempting to pass counterfeit money.

The next case taken up was that of the United States vs. Robert A. Colville, Adam Cosgrave and William Sturgeon. The indictment upon which the defendants were arraigned, contains three counts. The first charges them with distilling without the payment of the special tax; the second, with distilling without giving bond, and the third, with distilling in a prohibited place. We have already given the particulars of the seizure of a still at the establishment of Sturgeon & Cosgrave, on Liberty street, by George Keyser, Revenue Inspector of this district. When the case was called up yesterday afternoon District Attorney Carnahan appeared for the United States, and W. D. Moore, Esq., Gen. F. H. Collier, and Hon. P. C. Shannon, for the defendants. The case is still on trial.

The following petitions for adjudication in bankruptcy were received on Saturday:

George W. McGraw, Allegheny city; Silas J. McGinnis, Allegheny city; Anthony D. Anderson and William Wightman, Lawrenceville; John M. Appel, Allegheny city; John Hartman, Allegheny county; Hiram Clark, Crawford county; Alvin Tremont, Crawford county; Julius Weisert, Pittsburgh; Christopher Miller, Pittsburgh; Absalom Craine, Blair county; Ephraim Ralph, Crawford county; Annanias Derst, Mercer county; Wm. Clark, Erie county; M. B. Anderson, Erie county; Peter Suggart, Warren county; Isaac Williams, Allegheny county; John McGaffick, Pittsburgh.

The following petitions for adjudication were filed on Monday, but when the petitions for final discharge are presented they will be subject to the decision of the Court on the question raised as to the time specified in the act: Wm E. Allen, J. H. Robinson, J. S. Clark, of Scranton; George W. Copperthwaite, Edward L. Koons, Solomon Arnold, John Tinklefaugh, Luzerne county; Jerome J. Lord, Wyoming county; Edward McGlade, Cambria county; B. L. Hewitt, Blair county; David Grove, Huntingdon county; Samuel McBride, Mercer county; Henry Fulton, Venango county; Philander Langdon, T. A. Burrowes, Melvin J. Carr, Crawford county.

Quarter Sessions Court.

The June term of the Court of Quarter Sessions commenced on Monday morning, Judge Stowe on the bench. There are forty-three persons in jail awaiting trial for various charges.

The following grand jury was sworn:

Judge Stowe delivered the usual charge, briefly referring to the duties which would devolve upon the grand jury, and the manner in which their investigations should be conducted. During the course of his remarks His Honor referred to the charges of felony upon which the jury would be called upon to pass, and stated that in cases where the bill was ignored they had no right to impose the cost upon the prosecutor. In cases, however, where they were of the opinion that the prosecutor should pay the costs, they could note the fact upon the indictment, and the Court would refuse to allow any costs to be taxed against the county for the prosecutor's fees as a witness. The Court also called particular attention to the charges of larceny by bailee and false pretenses, now so frequently instituted, and directed the jurors to examine closely each case coming before them. The law had been greatly abused by parties for private purposes, and frequently used as a means for collecting mere debts where no criminal offense had been committed. His Honor directed that the bills be ignored in all cases where the charge was not fully made out by the evidence.

The jury then retired, after which the returns of constables were received.

The remainder of the day was occupied in hearing surety and other trivial cases.

Court of Common Pleas—Judge Sterrett.

Smithson, Palmer &c Company vs. Dr. B. Hostetter. This was an action to recover commission for sale of property belonging to the defendant. The payment was refused on the ground that the purchaser at the public sale declined to receive the deed of the property when legally tendered to him. The jury found for the plaintiffs in the sum of $151.

District Court—Judge Hampton.

O. Blackburn vs. William Dunshee. This was an action on a promissory note. Verdict for plaintiff in the sum of $132 50.

There being no other case ready for trial, court adjourned until Tuesday morning.

We are pleased to know that the Pleasant Valley Railway will not be laid on North avenue. In neither city is there so fine a street as this; long, straight, smooth, well paved, and destined at no distant day to be lined on one side with handsome residences from end to end, and on the other with the best portion of the Allegheny Commons. To destroy this street, which is already the most popular drive in the city, by encumbering it with rails would be a crying shame, particularly when there are other and parallel streets to which the road should be a real benefit. We understand that the track shall be laid on Sansom street, where it will be accessible to quite as many people as it would were it placed as at first intended. We are sure that there can be but very few persons who will not join us in applauding the wisdom of the new arrangement.

Base Ball.—The match game of base ball between the Athletics, of Philadelphia, and the Allegheny will take place in Union Park, at 3 o'clock p. m. to-day.

City Water Extension.

The special committee of Councils, consisting of Messrs. W. R. Brown, John Shipton, James Weldon, Col. Andrew Scott and Richard G. Morrow, accompanied by Col. Milnor W. Roberts, Superintendent of the Ohio River Improvements, H. J. Moore, Esq., City Engineer, Joseph French, Engineer of Water Works, Mr. Wm. Tomlinson, President of Common Council, and other members of Council, with several citizens and gentlemen of the press, visited Fort Herron and other eminences near the city, with a view to the selection of a site for a distributing basin suited to the necessities of the enlarged boundaries of the city. At Fort Herron, instrumental observations were made determining the Fort to be the highest ground between the rivers. It remains for the committee, by further explorations to prepare the materials for a report, which will embrace all the needful investigations preliminary to the fixing of the point on the river from which to take the water and the method of its distribution over the entire city, urban and suburban. The subject is one of very great importance to the present and future inhabitants through all coming generations, and we trust no pains or expense will be spared to effect the desired object in the most judicious manner. We have faith in the intelligence and prudence of the committee, and look to them for such an exposition of this most interesting topic as will reflect credit on themselves, and eventuate in such provisions of a water supply, as will be adapted to both the present and future necessities of a great city.

Phonography.

Those desirous of obtaining a knowledge of phonography, or short-hand writing are hereby informed of the fact that Mr. S. S. Gilson, a very worthy young gentleman, entirely competent, is now forming a class, and has met with such encouragement that he will likely commence teaching this evening at Duff's College, in the Bank Block, Fifth street, where he has secured accommodations. He purposes to give twenty-five lessons, three in a week, for ten dollars. He has just concluded a course of twenty lessons, and his class, after a rather elaborate review of what knowledge they had acquired of phonography, took occasion to return to Mr. Gilson their hearty acknowledgment for his earnest efforts in their behalf, and a number of them at once made application to join the new class, feeling that with a continuance of his assistance they would the sooner be able to write short-hand. We would add, that it is useless for any one to undertake to learn phonography unless possessed of the essential requisite of perseverance. Mr. Gilson will be found at Duff's College any evening during the week.

Coroner's Inquest.

An accident occurred Saturday afternoon in Hays' Coal Works, at Six Mile Ferry, resulting fatally to William Defour, a coal miner. He was at work in the pit, when a heavy piece of "horseback," becoming detached from the roof, fell upon him, killing him instantly. Coroner Clawson held an inquest on the remains yesterday, and a verdict of accidental death was rendered. The deceased was a Frenchman, fifty-six years of age, and leaves a wife and two grown up sons. He had been employed as a coal digger for nearly thirty years. He was suspected of having participated in the riot at O'Neil's works, and officers had arrived to arrest him, with others, when they learned of his death.

A Peculiar Case.—Mrs. M. J. Reed, of Birmingham, made information before Alderman McMasters, charging her sister-in-law, Mrs. M. E. Green, with obtaining boarding under false pretence She alleges that the accused came to her house some time since and obtained boarding representing that she had $500 in bank, and upon these representations she was furnished with board and lodgings until the bill amounted to $140. Mrs. Green denies the allegation, and says that she came from Kentucky to visit her sister-in-law, and that there was nothing said about boarding until recently, when it appears they quarreled. She was arrested and held for a hearing.

No Summer Vacations.—It will doubtless interest many of our readers to know that the Iron City College is in continued session throughout the year without vacations of any kind, thus permitting students to enter at any time and complete a course of study at their convenience. Circulars embracing full particulars concerning the College, course of study, necessary expenses, &c., can be obtained by addressing the Principals, Smith & Cowley, Pittsburgh, Pa.

False Pretense.—Andrew Meyer made information before Alderman Humbert yesterday, charging Bernard Redfaas with obtaining board under false pretense. He alleges that he obtained boarding to the amount of $27, by false and fraudulent representations. The accused was arrested, and taken to the Alderman's office where the matter was amicably arranged, the defendant paying the board bill and costs, after which he was discharged.

Felonious Assault.—John Lynch made information before Alderman Thomas, yesterday, charging his wife, Honora Lynch, with felonious assault and battery. He alleges that she made an assault upon him with a butcher knife, cutting him several times. A warrant was issued for her arrest.

Attempted Outrage.

A most bold and audacious attempt was made to outrage a young girl yesterday morning by a villain, whose entire name we were unable to learn. His first name is Henry, and he has been recently employed by Mr. Boyd, a painter on Ferry street. The young lady, Malissa Whitsell, who it appears resides with her parents at Shalersville, a short distance above Temperanceville, where they keep a confectionery, came to the city to make some purchases, and was passing along Market street, near Third, when she met a boy who she requested to direct her where she could get some ice. The boy directed her as requested, and she started on her way, and had proceeded but a short distance when Henry, who it appears heard her make the inquiry, came up behind her and touching her on the shoulder to attract her attention, told her that he would take her to an ice house. She thanked him and started with him. He took her down Market to Second street, and up Second to Wood to a narrow alley which leads into a dark court. She preceded him in the alley, and when about half way through it he caught hold of her, and with one hand on her mouth threw her down. She managed to get his hand from her mouth and cried for help, which frightened him from a further prosecution of his hellish designs, and caused him to run away and leave her. Her cries were heard by two men who were passing down the street, and seeing the villain emerge from the alley from whence the screams proceeded in great haste, they stopped him, but allowed him to escape on account of his threats to shoot, &c. He hastened down Second street to Market, and was then lost sight of. The girl went to the Mayor's office and made information against Henry for assault and battery with intent to commit rape. The officers know him, and if he has not left the city, will doubtless arrest him soon.

Shine up Your Silver.

Messrs. Richard E. Breed & Co., the well known queensware merchants, No. 100 Wood street, have just introduced in this market an article that is destined to meet with large sale, as its want has long been felt by the housewife. It is a liquid called "Kleuzer," put up in conveniently sized bottles, and designed to effectually clean and remove all stains and disfigurements from gold and silver plates and wares, galvanized or plated goods, brittania, tin ware, door knobs, stair rods and every other article of bright metal. We have tried it in our household and find it to be even better than was represented to us, for it acts like magic, removing tarnish and stains and leaving the surface as bright as new almost the very moment it is applied. A few drops will suffice to thoroughly clean a large sized pitcher or silver salver. It is just the thing and doubtless will become very popular when its great merits are known. The prices at which sold by wholesale and retail are very reasonable, and if any one is in doubt of its ability to accomplish immediately all that it is represented to do, let him call and see for himself at the house of Breed & Co., and he will be satisfied that it should find a place in every household.

La Rue's Minstrels.

It should be borne in mind that this splendid troupe of minstrels will be at the New Opera House on this evening. The Rochester Union says of them: "Corinthian Hall was crowded again last evening with an enthusiastic audience to witness the second performance of the Carnival Ministrels. The programme was entirely different from the preceding evening and showed an illustration of the versatility of the company. Most of the acts, songs and dances, were new and created great amusement. After the first part Mr. La Rue presented to the audience $100 in greenbacks—Mr. J. H. Ellis, No. 29 Buffalo street, drawing $25, and Mr. S. P. Wilson, Sheriff's office, drawing the principal gift of $50 in greenbacks. The presentation seems to be conducted fairly, and gives universal satisfaction."

Oil Refinery for Sale.

There is offered for sale by D. W. C. Carroll, Esq., in our advertising columns, this morning, a first class and thoroughly complete oil refinery, conveniently located on the Allegheny Valley Railroad and having a river frontage of six acres. It has four steam pumps, and the full complement of tanks, stills, &c., &c., all in first class order. It has capacity for seven hundred barrels refined oil per week. We do not know of any better chance for a lucrative investment of capital.

Robbed a Hen-roost.—Catharine Carroll made information before Alderman Taylor yesterday, charging Pat Longe with larceny. She alleges that she was the possessor of a hen and thirteen chickens, of the value of $2, and that on Saturday evening after the hen had gathered her brood under her wings, for protection, Patrick came and carried away both hen and brood, leaving her chickenless. A warrant was issued for Patricks arrest.

Knocked Him Down.—D. R. Ecker and Samuel Lindsay were engaged in a political discussion yesterday, in which they became so much interested as to quarrel, and finally Lindsay knocked Ecker down. Ecker made information before Alderman McMasters, charging his antagonist with assault and battery. A warrant was issued.

Surety of the Peace.—Mary Shultz made information before Alderman Thomas yesterday, alleging that Bridget McNally called her ugly names and threatened to do her bodily harm. A warrant was issued for the arrest of Bridget.

Abandonment.—Rosonna McHugh made information before Alderman McMasters, charging her husband, Hugh McHugh, with abandonment and desertion. The parties reside in Allegheny. A warrant was issued for Hugh.

A Representative Banking House.

No private banking house in the State enjoys a higher reputation for solidity of basis, carefulness and caution in management and facilities for the prompt transaction of financial business of all characters, than that of Ph. R. Mertz, corner of Fifth and Wood streets. Having had large practical experience in every department of finance, thoroughly acquainted with its intricacies as a science, Mr. Mertz so conducts his affairs as to win the confidence and a large share of public patronage from the community. He does a regular systematic banking business, deals extensively in Government securities of all descriptions, receives deposits, transient or on time, at interest, and attends promptly to all collections at other points left in his care. Having a very extensive foreign collection business in all parts of Europe, he possesses unusual facilities for the transmission of money to the old Continent. To travelers superior inducements are offered for the purchase of sight drafts, as his sight drafts on the Union Bank of London, which are often sold here at rates less than the prevailing ones in New York, are promptly honored on presentation in any part of England, Ireland or Scotland. In connection with his banking facilities, Mr. Mertz has the agency for all the steamship lines, especially the favorably known and old established William & Guion line. He is the authorized agent for the sale of the Union and Central Pacific Railway Company's first mortgage bonds. Gold cheques are issued on New York, Baltimore and Philadelphia at rates generally below New York quotations. Stocks are bought and sold on commission only. Having had long acquaintance and dealing with Mr. Mertz, we can commend him as eminently worthy the confidence and patronage of the business public.

Amusements.

PITTSBURGH THEATRE.—The attractions at the Pitisburgh Theatre are still increasing. "Undone" was put upon the boards last night for the first time. M'lle Tournour has recovered from the temporary illness which prevented her from appearing last week, and will continue to astonish the public with her daring and unparalleled feats on the trapez.

LA RUE'S MINSTRELS.—The most popular troupe of minstrels extant are now entertaining the amusement loving portion of the community, at the Opera House, which was filled with a large and fashionable audience last night. At the conclusion of the entertainment Mr. LaRue came before the curtain and distributed one hundred dollars in greenbacks to the audience. The following named gentlemen were among the persons who held the lucky numbers: Jno. S. Kennedy, Smithfield street, twenty-five dollars; Jas. Finn, 237 Webster street, R. A. Clover, Franklin, Pa., John Dickson, 52 Middle alley, Allegheny, and A. Allery, 20 Federal street, Pittsburgh, each received ten dollars. Forty-four others received one dollar each.

A Splendid Opportunity.

To-morrow afternoon, at four o'clock, will be sold under the auction hammer, by Smithson, Vanhook & McClelland, one of the finest and most delightful suburban residences about Pittsburgh. It is the elegant and commodious new house recently erected in the center of a two acre lot at Homewood Station, in one of the best neighborhoods of the county. The grounds are finely improved and the house contains eight rooms and large attic, with all modern conveniences and appliances. Stable and carriage house and shrubbery. The grounds are ornamented and enclosed with paling fence. It is beautifully situated on the Greensburg pike, near the fine residences of Messrs. Fahnestock, Griffith and others, opposite the toll gate, and combines every desirable feature of a country residence near to the city. The special attention of those in quest of a first class home is invited to this highly attractive sale. Take train at three o'clock from Union Depot, Liberty street. Rarely, if ever, has there been offered a better chance for investment.

Still They Come.—There will doubtless be a greater number of bawdy house cases before the Grand Jury this term than there has ever been at any previous one, unless the prosecutors in the cases relent and fail to put in an appearance. In addition to many cases of that character heretofore reported an other information was made yesterday before Alderman McMasters, against Philip Ouks and Sarah, Lewis, who occupy a house in Weaver's court, off Grant street, between Second and Third, alleging that they kept a disorderly bawdy house. A warrant was issued.

Inquest Concluded.—The jury impannelled in the case of an unknown man found in the Ohio river near the Manchester Ferry, Saturday morning, an account of which we published in the GAZETTE of yesterday, re-assembled yesterday at the Coroner's office, when a verdict of "found drowned" was rendered.

Assault and Battery.—George Taylor, it appears, went into a soloon on Penn street, Fifth ward, kept by Wm. McFetridge and Henry Elkin, and for some cause Elkin kicked him out. Taylor made information before Alderman Taylor, yesterday, charging Elkin with assault and battery. A warrant was issued for his arrest.

An Unknown Bruiser.—Patrick McGee made information before Alderman Taylor yesterday, alleging that an unknown man had committed an assault and battery upon him, and from Patrick's appearance, the unknown individual was evidently a bruiser. A warrant was issued, and the officer is in search of the unknown.

Sixth Ward.—As stated yesterday the election in the First precint of this ward resulted in a tie vote, in consequence of which an election was held yesterday, which resulted in the election of Jared M. Brush and a tie vote between Mr. Hunnicutt and Mr. Gillespie.

Important Real Estate Sale This Day.—The lot 65x85 on the northwest corner of the Allegheny Diamond will be sold at two o'clock this afternoon. A rare opportunity for a safe investment.

A. LEGGATE, Auctioneer.

Illegal Liquor Selling.—Geo. Taylor made information before Alderman Taylor, yesterday, charging Wm. M'Fetridge and Henry Elkin with selling liquor on Sunday. Warrants were issued.

The "Life of Washington Irving," by his nephew, Pierre M. Irving, Vol. IV, page 272, gives evidence of the merits of Whitcomb's Asthma Remedy in his last sickness. TTSW.

Board of Control.—A meetiug of the Allegheny Board of School Controllers will be held this (Tuesday) evening in the Common Council Chamber, at 7½ o'clock.

Report of the Superintendent of the Fire Alarm and Police Telegraph.

Mr. S. T. Paisley, Superintendent of the Fire Alarm and Police Telegraph, furnishes us with the following report of the working of the Telegraph for the month: Eight alarms were sounded during the month. One hundred and twelve blows were struck on the great bell in sounding the alarms, and two hundred and forty-eight blows in sounding the hours, making a total of three hundred and sixty blows. The total loss by fire was $30,125, and the total insurance $29,400. The greatest fire of the month was that of the Pittsburgh Bolt Factory, which occurred on Sunday, May 3d, on which occasion a general alarm was struck, and the entire Department turned out. During the month there were fifty-six police messages sent and received.

Letter Carriers' Report.

The following is a report of the number of letters and papers collected and delivered by the letter carriers of this city for the month of May, 1868:

	Mail Let.	Drop Let.	Papers.
Collected	83,358	3,561	1,377
Delivered	85,847	9,267	28,427

Five collections and deliveries are made daily throughout the business portions of the city. One collection is made after 8 o'clock, p. m.

Haven's Monthly Bulletin.—We are in receipt of W. S. Haven's Monthly Bulletin for this month. They are decidedly the neatest thing now printed in that line. They give the arrival and departures of all mails coming to and going from the city, and the time of closing the mails here. Also the arrival and departure all the trains running into Pittsburgh and Allegheny; and the stage and horseback mails, together with the country postoffices in this and adjoining counties. No counting house is complete without Haven's Bulletin. Call at his book store, corner Wood and Third streets, and get one.
